Section 3 “Information About CBA”	39
PERLS XVI	CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes, also referred to as PERLS XVI, are subordinated, unsecured notes issued by CBA. The PERLS XVI Terms are complex and include features to comply with the detailed regulatory capital requirements which the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (“APRA”) applies to these securities. These features mean that you may not receive your investment back as in certain circumstances PERLS XVI may remain on issue indefinitely, may be Exchanged into CBA Ordinary Shares (potentially for less than the Face Value) or may be written-off. This Prospectus details each of these features.	Section 2 “Information About CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes” Appendix A “Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes”	17 97
Offer size	A$1,550 million, with the ability to raise more or less.
Use of proceeds	The Offer raises Tier 1 Capital to satisfy CBA’s regulatory capital requirements and maintain the diversity of CBA’s sources and types of funding. The net proceeds of the Offer will be used to fund CBA’s business.	Section 3.8 “Financial information about CBA”	42
Face Value	Initial Face Value is A$100 per PERLS XVI but may be reduced or written-off following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event. This Prospectus provides further information in relation to these events. 	CBA must Exchange PERLS XVI into Ordinary Shares on the Mandatory Exchange Date (subject to the Maximum Exchange Number and Mandatory Exchange Conditions), and may, at CBA's option, Redeem or procure a Resale of PERLS XVI on a Call Date, or Exchange or Redeem PERLS XVI earlier on the occurrence of certain events (subject to APRA approval) ¹ .	Clauses 1.1, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7
Distributions	Each PERLS XVI is scheduled to pay floating rate Distributions quarterly until that PERLS XVI is Exchanged or Redeemed.	Section 2.1.1 "How are Distributions calculated on PERLS XVI?"	18

	Distributions are expected to be fully franked.
	The first Distribution is scheduled to be paid on 15 September 2023.
	Distributions are discretionary and subject to the Distribution payment conditions being satisfied. This means a Distribution may not be paid. Distributions that are not paid do not accrue and will not be subsequently paid. Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 2	99
	No Distribution will be paid on Exchange where Exchange occurs due to a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event.

1.1.1 Summary of events that may affect PERLS XVI

You may not receive your investment back as in certain circumstances PERLS XVI may remain on issue indefinitely, may be Exchanged into Ordinary Shares (potentially for less than the Face Value) or may be written-off.

Redemption at CBA's option for tax or regulatory reasons or if CBA is unable to frank Distributions (see Section 2.2 "When will the Face Value be repaid?")

Automatic Exchange if a Capital Trigger Event, Non-Viability Trigger Event or Change of Control Event occurs (see Section 2.4 "Automatic Exchange on a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event" and Section 2.5 "Automatic Exchange on a Change of Control Event"). Maximum Exchange Number calculated based on 20% of Issue Date VWAP.

Upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event, if Exchange fails to take effect for any reason and CBA has not otherwise issued the Ordinary Shares required to be issued in respect of such Exchange at the relevant time, Holders' rights under the relevant PERLS XVI will be immediately and irrevocably terminated (written-off). This will result in your investment in the relevant PERLS losing all of its value – the Face Value will not be repaid and you will not receive any compensation.

Ordinary Shares are a different type of investment to PERLS XVI	Ordinary shares are an equity security and may trade at a market price which is affected by different factors from those affecting a hybrid security such as PERLS XVI. The market price of Ordinary Shares may be more sensitive than that of PERLS XVI to changes in CBA's performance, operational issues and other business issues. Dividends on Ordinary Shares are payable at the absolute discretion of CBA and the amount of each dividend is discretionary (not subject to a formula). In contrast, Distributions on PERLS XVI are payable in accordance with the Terms. In a winding up of CBA, claims of holders of Ordinary Shares rank behind claims of holders of all other securities and debts of CBA. A failure to Exchange following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event may cause you to lose your investment as some or all of your PERLS XVI may be written-off	If a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs and Exchange fails to take effect for any reason and CBA has not otherwise issued the Ordinary Shares required to be issued in respect of such Exchange within 5 Business Days, then Holders' rights under the relevant PERLS XVI will be immediately and irrevocably terminated (written-off) and such termination will be taken to have occurred immediately on the date of the occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event. Your investment in the relevant PERLS XVI will lose all of its value – the Face Value will not be paid and you will not receive any compensation. This could occur if CBA was prevented from issuing Ordinary Shares by circumstances outside of its control, for example, if CBA was prevented by an applicable law or order of any court, or action of any government authority, from issuing Ordinary Shares.	Section 4.2.5	57

APRA's approval may or may not be given.	Section 4.2.7	59

There is a risk the Distribution Rate may become less attractive compared to returns on comparable securities or investments. It is possible for the Market Rate to become negative. Should this occur, the negative amount will be taken into account in calculating the Distribution Rate. However, there is no obligation on Holders to pay CBA if the calculated Distribution Rate becomes negative.	Section 4.2.10	60	1
The market price of PERLS XVI will fluctuate	The market price of PERLS XVI on ASX will fluctuate, including as a result of movements in credit margins, and you may lose some or all of the money you invested in PERLS XVI if you sell them.	Section 4.2.11	60	2

ASIC may exercise its powers under the Product Design and Distribution laws	The PDDO Provisions give ASIC the power to issue an interim stop order in certain circumstances where it is satisfied that CBA has failed to comply with its obligations under the PDDO Provisions or has failed to take reasonable steps to ensure that distribution conduct in relation to PERLS XVI is consistent with the TMD. The PDDO Provisions also give ASIC significant, proactive powers to issue product intervention orders if it believes that a financial product (such as PERLS XVI) has resulted, will result, or is likely to result in significant detriment to retail investors.	Section 4.2.17	61	7
Risks associated with CBA's businesses which may affect PERLS XVI
Strategic risks arising from changes in CBA's external and internal operating environment	Dynamically evolving current or emerging risks, such as macroeconomic conditions including the impact of high inflation levels and rising interest rates, the COVID-19 pandemic, the competitive landscape, emerging technologies, and the regulatory and political environment, can challenge the business model and profitability assumptions underlying CBA's strategy.	Section 4.3.1	62	A
Macroeconomic environment	The performance of CBA is dependent on the state of the economies of the jurisdictions in which it operates or obtains funding, which in turn are impacted by events in the global economy and by geopolitical events more generally, including inflationary pressures and rapid increases in interest rates, continuing impacts of COVID-19, geopolitical tensions and instability of the global banking system. PERLS XVI are scheduled to pay floating rate Distributions quarterly until all PERLS XVI are Exchanged or Redeemed.

2.1.1 How are Distributions calculated on PERLS XVI?
Key features of Distributions	Distributions are discretionary and subject to the Distribution payment conditions being satisfied. Distributions that are not paid do not accrue and will not be subsequently paid. Non-payment of a Distribution will not be an event of default and CBA will have no liability to Holders in respect of the unpaid Distribution. Distributions are expected to be fully franked. The first Distribution is scheduled to be paid on 15 September 2023.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 2	99
Distribution Rate	The Distribution Rate is calculated using the following formula: $\text{Distribution Rate} = (\text{Market Rate} + \text{Margin}) \times (1 - \text{Tax Rate})$ Where: The Margin is 3.00% per annum. Tax Rate is the Australian corporate tax rate on the relevant Distribution Payment Date. Market Rate is the Bank Bill Swap Reference Rate ("BBSW") administered by ASX Benchmarks Pty Limited (or any other person that takes on the administration of that rate) expressed as a percentage per annum for a term of 3 months. The Market Rate is the primary benchmark interest rate for the Australian money market. It is the primary short-term rate used in the financial markets for the pricing and valuation of Australian dollar securities and as a lending reference rate. The Market Rate changes to reflect supply and demand within the cash and currency markets and it is possible for the Market Rate to become negative. The Market Rate for each Distribution Period is set on the first Business Day of the Distribution Period.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 2	99

If CBA determines that BBSW has been affected by a “Market Rate Disruption Event”, CBA may select an Alternative Market Rate that it considers appropriate and make other related changes to the Terms (subject to APRA’s prior written approval in certain circumstances). Approval is at the discretion of APRA and may or may not be given.

Broadly, a “Market Rate Disruption Event” occurs where BBSW is not published by 10:30am (or any such time as CBA considers appropriate), there is an obvious error in the rate, BBSW has been discontinued or ceases to be calculated or administered, or BBSW has ceased to be generally accepted in the Australian market for securities such as PERLS XVI. CBA is required to act in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner in selecting an Alternative Market Rate, and may consult with sources that it considers appropriate, but may otherwise exercise its discretion.

Where an Alternative Market Rate applies, CBA retains discretion to incorporate an adjustment (subject to APRA’s written approval in certain circumstances), in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable in the circumstances, any economic prejudice or benefit to Holders as a result of the use of an Alternative Market Rate.

Further detail is set out in Clause 2.2 of the Terms.

	It is possible for the Market Rate to become negative. Should this occur, the negative amount will be taken into account in calculating the Distribution Rate. For example, if the Market Rate is -1.00% per annum, the Margin is 3.00% per annum and the Australian corporate tax rate is 30%, then the Distribution Rate will be 1.40% per annum, calculated as follows: Distribution Rate = (-1.00% + 3.00%) x (1 - 30%) = 1.40% If the calculated Distribution Rate becomes negative, there will be no obligation on Holders to pay CBA.
Calculation of Distributions	The Distribution payable on each PERLS XVI for each Distribution Period is calculated using the following formula: Distribution payable = Distribution Rate x Face Value x Number of days in the Distribution Period / 365 For example, if the Face Value is A$100 (based on the Initial Face Value), the Market Rate is 3.93% per annum, the Margin is 3.00% per annum, the Australian corporate tax rate is 30%, the Distribution Period is 90 days in length and the Distribution is fully franked (see below under "Franking credits"), the Distribution for the relevant Distribution Period would be calculated as follows: 6.93% x (1 - 30%) x A$100 x 90/365 = A$1.1961 per PERLS XVI The above example is for illustrative purposes only and does not indicate, guarantee or forecast the actual Distribution Rate for any Distribution Period. The actual Distribution payable may be higher or lower than this example. The Face Value used in this example is the Initial Face Value but the Face Value could be reduced if a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs. CBA will announce to ASX the applicable Distribution Rate and the amount of the Distribution payable for each Distribution Period. Information about the Distribution Rate can also be obtained from ASX at asx.com.au and from the Investor Centre at commbank.com.au/investors.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 2.3	100

Franking credits	Distributions are expected to be fully franked.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 2.4	100
	If any Distribution is not fully franked for any reason, then that Distribution will be grossed up according to the formula in Clause 2.4 of the Terms. Holders should be aware that the potential value of franking credits does not accrue to you at the same time as the cash Distribution is received. The ability for Holders to use franking credits, either as an offset to a tax liability or by claiming a refund, will depend on that Holder's particular tax circumstance and any changes in the Australian tax law.	For further information about the tax consequences of receiving Distributions, see Section 5.3 "Summary of Australian tax consequences for Holders"	76
2.1.2 How are Distributions paid on PERLS XVI?

Distributions are subject to Distribution payment conditions Dividend and capital restrictions may then apply to Ordinary Shares	Payment of a Distribution is subject to the following conditions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • CBA, in its absolute discretion, making the Distribution to Holders; • payment not resulting in a breach of CBA's capital requirements as they are applied to the CBA Level 1 Group, the CBA Level 2 Group or both under APRA's prudential standards; • payment not resulting in CBA becoming, or being likely to become, insolvent; and • APRA not otherwise objecting to the payment. No Distribution will be paid on Exchange where Exchange occurs due to a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event. Distributions that are not paid do not accrue and will not be subsequently paid. Non-payment of a Distribution on the relevant Distribution Payment Date will not be an event of default and CBA will have no liability to Holders in respect of the unpaid Distribution. However, from that Distribution Payment Date and until a Distribution is paid in full on a subsequent Distribution Payment Date (or all PERLS XVI are Exchanged, Redeemed or otherwise terminated), CBA cannot (subject to certain exceptions): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • declare or determine a dividend on Ordinary Shares; or • return any capital or undertake any buy-backs or repurchases in relation to Ordinary Shares. 	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clauses 1.5(g), 2.5, 2.6 and 2.7	98, 100

2.2 When will the Face Value be repaid?

PERLS XVI are perpetual but CBA has the right to Redeem some or all PERLS XVI in certain circumstances. CBA may only Redeem or buy-back PERLS XVI as permitted by APRA's prudential standards, which require APRA's approval (which is at APRA's discretion and may not be given). APRA having approved the redemption of past PERLS securities is not indicative that APRA would approve the Redemption or buy-back of PERLS XVI. APRA has stated that it would need to be satisfied as to the economic and prudential rationale for any redemption¹.

		Further information	Page
Optional early Redemption by CBA	CBA has the right to Redeem the following number of PERLS XVI in the following circumstances (subject to certain conditions, including prior written approval from APRA and CBA either replacing PERLS XVI with capital of the same or better quality or APRA being satisfied that CBA does not need to replace PERLS XVI): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> on the Call Dates (17 June 2030, 16 December 2030, or 16 June 2031) – all or some PERLS XVI; or at any time – all PERLS XVI if CBA is unable to frank Distributions or for other tax or regulatory reasons (described below). Approval is at the discretion of APRA and may or may not be given. On the Call Date or Redemption Date (as applicable), you will receive an amount equal to the Face Value for each of your PERLS XVI being Redeemed.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 5	104
Early Redemption by CBA – for taxation reasons	A tax reason arises when: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> as a result of a change in, or amendment to, the laws of Australia, or any change in their application or official or judicial interpretation or administration (including any announcement of a prospective change or amendment which has been or will be introduced), other than a change or amendment expected by CBA as at the Issue Date, there is a material risk that CBA would not be able to frank Distributions; or CBA receives an opinion from reputable legal counsel or other tax adviser that there is a material risk that as a result of a change in, or amendment to, the laws of Australia, or any change in their application or official or judicial interpretation or administration (including any announcement of a prospective change or amendment which has been or will be introduced), other than a change or amendment expected by CBA as at the Issue Date, CBA would be required to pay an increased amount under Clause 9.6 of the Terms, or would be exposed to a more than de minimis adverse tax consequence in relation to PERLS XVI. 	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clauses 5.2, 5.3 and 9.6	104, 105, 110

1. APRA recently stated that ADIs, such as CBA, generally should not call a capital instrument and replace it with an instrument with a higher margin or that is otherwise more expensive, as it may create the expectation that the ADI may exercise a call option on other outstanding capital instruments. An exception would be where the ADI can (i) satisfy APRA as to the economic and prudential rationale of the call; and (ii) satisfy APRA that such action will not create an expectation that other instruments will be called in similar circumstances. In assessing the prudential and economic rationale for any redemption, APRA requires analysis from the ADI which demonstrates the cost of issuing a replacement instrument is equal to or less than the cost of keeping the existing instrument outstanding.

Early Redemption by CBA – for regulatory reasons	Broadly, a regulatory reason arises when CBA determines that, as a result of a change in law or APRA's prudential standards or guidelines, or in their application or official or judicial interpretation or administration (including any announcement of a prospective change or amendment which has been or will be introduced), other than as a result of a change expected by CBA as at the Issue Date: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • all, some or a proportion of all or some, PERLS XVI will not be treated as Tier 1 Capital of the CBA Group under APRA's prudential standards; • additional requirements would be imposed on CBA in relation to or in connection with PERLS XVI which might have a material adverse effect on CBA; or • it would be unlawful or impractical to have PERLS XVI outstanding or CBA would be exposed to a more than a de minimis increase in its costs in connection with those PERLS XVI. 	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 5.4	105
Resale on the Call Dates	CBA may elect that Resale occur in relation to all or some PERLS XVI on the Call Dates (17 June 2030, 16 December 2030 or 16 June 2031). If Resale occurs, your PERLS XVI will be purchased by a Purchaser for a cash amount equal to their Face Value. The Purchaser will be one or more third parties selected by CBA in its absolute discretion (which cannot be CBA, a member of the CBA Group or a Related Body Corporate of CBA).	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 6	106
No early Exchange or Redemption rights for Holders	You do not have a right to request that your PERLS XVI be Exchanged or Redeemed early for any reason. To realise your investment, you can sell your PERLS XVI on ASX at the prevailing market price.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clauses 4.8 and 5.7	104, 106

2.3 Mandatory Exchange

PERLS XVI do not have a maturity date but are scheduled to be Exchanged on the Mandatory Exchange Date.

		Further information	Page
Mandatory Exchange Date	The Mandatory Exchange Date for PERLS XVI is 17 June 2033 or, if the Mandatory Exchange Conditions are not satisfied on that date, the first Distribution Payment Date after that date on which the Mandatory Exchange Conditions are satisfied.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 3	101

Exchange on the Mandatory Exchange Date	On the Mandatory Exchange Date (subject to the Maximum Exchange Number and Mandatory Exchange Conditions), you will receive for each of your PERLS a variable number of Ordinary Shares with a value equal to A$101.01 (based on the Initial Face Value and the VWAP of Ordinary Shares during the period of 20 Business Days before the Mandatory Exchange Date with the benefit of a 1% discount). The value of Ordinary Shares you receive could be less than this amount if the Face Value has previously been reduced (following a previous Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event).	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clauses 3.1 and 7	101, 106
	To realise the value of the Ordinary Shares, you can sell them on ASX at the prevailing market price.
Exchange Number	CBA will issue to the Holder the Exchange Number of Ordinary Shares for each PERLS XVI held by a Holder.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 7.1	106
	The Exchange Number is calculated according to the following formula, subject to the Exchange Number being no greater than the Maximum Exchange Number:
	$\frac{\text{Face Value}}{0.99 \times \text{VWAP}}$
	Based on a Face Value of A$100 (the Initial Face Value) and with the benefit of the 1% discount, this means that you will receive a variable number of Ordinary Shares with a value equal to A$101.01.
	For example, assuming the VWAP is A$90, the number of Ordinary Shares that you will receive for each PERLS XVI on the Exchange Date would be calculated as follows:
	$\frac{\text{A$100}}{(0.99 \times \text{A$90})}$
	= 1.1223 Ordinary Shares per PERLS XVI
	Assuming the price of the Ordinary Shares on the Exchange Date is also A$90, the aggregate value of the Ordinary Shares would be approximately A$101.01 (calculated by multiplying 1.1223 Ordinary Shares by the Ordinary Share price of A$90) ¹ .
	The value of Ordinary Shares you receive could be less than this amount if the Maximum Exchange Number applies or the Face Value has previously been reduced (following a previous Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event).

1. This example is for illustrative purposes only. The actual VWAP and number of Ordinary Shares that you may receive on Exchange on the Exchange Date may be higher or lower than in this example. In addition, if the total number of Ordinary Shares to be issued in respect of your aggregate holding of PERLS XVI includes a fraction of an Ordinary Share, that fraction of an Ordinary Share will be disregarded.

Maximum Exchange Number	The number of Ordinary Shares that you will receive will not be greater than the Maximum Exchange Number which is calculated according to the following formula: $\frac{\text{Face Value}}{\text{Relevant Percentage} \times \text{Issue Date VWAP}}$ The Relevant Percentage is 0.50 if Exchange is occurring on a Mandatory Exchange Date. The Issue Date VWAP is the VWAP of Ordinary Shares during the period of 20 Business Days immediately preceding (but not including) the Issue Date for PERLS XVI. For example, if the Face Value is A\$100 (based on the Initial Face Value) and the Issue Date VWAP is A\$95, the Maximum Exchange Number would be calculated as follows: $\frac{\text{A\$100}}{(0.50 \times \text{A\$95})}$ = 2.1053 Ordinary Shares per PERLS XVI The Maximum Exchange Number may limit you to receiving a number of Ordinary Shares with a value (measured over the period prior to Exchange) which is significantly less than the Face Value on Exchange. To provide some protection for Holders against this occurring, Exchange on a Mandatory Exchange Date will not occur unless the Mandatory Exchange Conditions are satisfied. However, depending on the market price of Ordinary Shares at the time, you may receive Ordinary Shares that are worth less than the Face Value, and may suffer loss as a consequence. The Maximum Exchange Number will reduce if the Face Value has previously been reduced (following a previous Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event).	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 7.1	106
VWAP	VWAP means the average of the daily volume weighted average prices of Ordinary Shares traded on ASX and Cboe during the relevant period of 20 Business Days, subject to adjustments. It is intended to calculate a fair price of Ordinary Shares which is used to calculate the Exchange Number and Maximum Exchange Number.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" definition of VWAP	119

	The Mandatory Exchange Conditions are:			2
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • First Mandatory Exchange Condition: the VWAP of Ordinary Shares on the 25th Business Day before (but not including) a potential Mandatory Exchange Date is greater than 56% of the Issue Date VWAP; • Second Mandatory Exchange Condition: the VWAP of Ordinary Shares during the period of 20 Business Days before (but not including) a potential Mandatory Exchange Date is greater than 50.51% of the Issue Date VWAP; and • Third Mandatory Exchange Condition: Ordinary Shares are listed or admitted to trading on a securities exchange as at the Mandatory Exchange Date. 			3
	The First and Second Mandatory Exchange Conditions are intended to provide some protection for Holders against Exchange occurring when the price of Ordinary Shares has fallen to such a level that you would only receive the Maximum Exchange Number.			4
	CBA has had regard to market precedents and the cap on the number of Ordinary Shares permitted to be issued under applicable APRA prudential standards and ratings guidance in determining the percentages specified in the First and Second Mandatory Exchange Conditions.			5
	The Third Mandatory Exchange Condition is intended to provide protection to Holders to enable them to sell the Ordinary Shares they receive on ASX or other relevant securities exchange if they wish to do so.			6

The following diagram illustrates the timeframes that are relevant for the Mandatory Exchange Conditions, using the date of 17 June 2033 as a potential Mandatory Exchange Date.

These dates are indicative only and may change.

What if I do not wish to receive Ordinary Shares or if I am prohibited or restricted from receiving Ordinary Shares?	If you do not wish to receive Ordinary Shares, you can notify CBA of this at any time prior to the Exchange Date. If Exchange occurs and you have notified CBA that you do not wish to receive Ordinary Shares, or if you are an Ineligible Holder¹, then CBA will issue the relevant number of Ordinary Shares to a Nominee who will hold the Ordinary Shares on trust for sale for your benefit². At the first opportunity, the Nominee will arrange for the sale of the Ordinary Shares on your behalf and pay the proceeds less selling costs to you. No guarantee is given in relation to the timing or price at which any sale will occur.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 7.10	108
---	--	--	-----

1. CBA will treat a Holder as not being an Ineligible Holder unless the Holder has notified CBA that it is an Ineligible Holder.
2. If, because the Holder is an Ineligible Holder, the Nominee is deemed to be an Ineligible Holder, then Ordinary Shares will be issued to the Nominee as soon as practicable after the Nominee ceases to be an Ineligible Holder. If Exchange is occurring because of the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, and the Exchange fails to take effect for any reason and CBA has not otherwise issued the Ordinary Shares required to be issued in respect of such Exchange within 5 Business Days, then Holders' rights under the relevant PERLS XVI will be immediately and irrevocably terminated (written-off) and such termination will be taken to have occurred immediately on the date of the occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event.

2.4 Automatic Exchange on a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event

CBA must Exchange all, some or a percentage of each PERLS XVI if certain events occur.

Automatic early Exchange – Capital Trigger Event	A Capital Trigger Event occurs when:	Section 3.8.1.3	43
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • CBA determines; or • APRA notifies CBA in writing that it believes, 	“Capital Trigger Event”
	that either or both the CBA Level 1 Common Equity Tier 1 (“CET1”) Capital Ratio or CBA Level 2 CET1 Capital Ratio is equal to or less than 5.125%.	Section 4.2.5	57
	The CET1 Capital Ratio is the ratio of CBA’s CET1 Capital to its risk-weighted assets (“RWA”), where CET1 Capital is the strongest form of capital held by CBA. CBA’s Level 2 CET1 Capital Ratio was 12.1% as at 31 March 2023, which equates to a surplus of approximately A$32.7 billion above the Capital Trigger Event level of 5.125%. CBA’s Level 1 CET1 Capital Ratio was 12.3% as at 31 March 2023, which equates to a surplus of approximately A$30.6 billion above the Capital Trigger Event level of 5.125%.	Section 4.2.5 “A Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event may occur”
If a Capital Trigger Event occurs, CBA must immediately Exchange such number of PERLS XVI (or a percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI) as is sufficient to return the relevant CET1 Capital Ratio to above 5.125%.	Appendix A	101, 103, 116

Automatic early Exchange – Non-Viability Trigger Event	A Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs when APRA notifies CBA in writing that it believes:	Section 4.2.5	57
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Exchange of all or some PERLS XVI (or the exchange or write-off of other capital instruments of the CBA Group) is necessary because, without it, CBA would become non-viable; or • a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, is necessary because, without it, CBA would become non-viable. 	“A Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event may occur”
	If a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs, CBA must immediately Exchange such number of PERLS XVI (or a percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI) as specified by APRA or necessary to satisfy APRA that CBA will no longer be non-viable. In the case of a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, all PERLS XVI must be immediately Exchanged.	Appendix A	102, 103

How does Exchange work upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event?	Upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, CBA must immediately Exchange all or some PERLS XVI (or a percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI). The Mandatory Exchange Conditions do not apply and the Terms provide that Exchange occurs automatically without the need for any further act or step by CBA and that CBA will recognise Holders as having been issued Ordinary Shares.	Section 4.2.5 "A Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event may occur"	57	1
	Any ASX trades in PERLS XVI that have not settled on the date a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs will continue to settle in accordance with the normal ASX T+2 settlement, although the seller will be treated as having delivered, and the buyer will be treated as having acquired, the number of Ordinary Shares into which PERLS XVI have been Exchanged as a result of the occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clauses 4.1, 4.2, 4.3, 4.5, 4.6 and 7.9	101, 102, 103, 108	2
Write-off if Exchange fails to take effect	If, following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, Exchange fails to take effect for any reason and CBA has not otherwise issued the Ordinary Shares required to be issued in respect of such Exchange within 5 Business Days, then Holders' rights under the relevant PERLS XVI will be immediately and irrevocably terminated (written-off), and such termination will be taken to have occurred immediately on the date of the occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event. Your investment in the relevant PERLS XVI will lose all of its value and you will not receive any compensation. This could occur if CBA is prevented from issuing Ordinary Shares by circumstances outside its control, for example, if CBA is prevented by a specified law or order of any court, or action of any government authority, from issuing Ordinary Shares.	Section 4.2.5 "A Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event may occur"	57	3
		Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 4.6	103	4
Exchange Number	CBA will issue the Exchange Number of Ordinary Shares for each PERLS XVI held by a Holder.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 7.1	106	5
	The Exchange Number is calculated according to the same formula that applies to Exchange on the Mandatory Exchange Date (see Section 2.3 "Mandatory Exchange"), but with the VWAP based on the period of 5 Business Days before the Exchange Date, and is subject to the Exchange Number being no greater than the Maximum Exchange Number.			6
	The amount used as the Face Value in this calculation will only be the affected percentage of the Face Value required to be Exchanged and, if the full Face Value is not required to be Exchanged, you will continue to hold your PERLS XVI with a reduced Face Value.			7

Maximum Exchange Number	The number of Ordinary Shares that you will receive will not be greater than the Maximum Exchange Number which is calculated according to the following formula: $\frac{\text{Face Value}}{\text{Relevant Percentage} \times \text{Issue Date VWAP}}$ The Relevant Percentage is 0.20 if a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event has occurred. The Issue Date VWAP is the VWAP of Ordinary Shares during the period of 20 Business Days immediately preceding (but not including) the Issue Date for PERLS XVI. For example, if the Face Value is A\$100 (based on the Initial Face Value) and the Issue Date VWAP is A\$95, the Maximum Exchange Number would be calculated as follows: $\frac{\text{A\$100}}{(0.20 \times \text{A\$95})}$ = 5.2632 Ordinary Shares per PERLS XVI The Maximum Exchange Number may limit you to receiving a number of Ordinary Shares with a value which is significantly less than the Face Value. The Mandatory Exchange Conditions do not apply if a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event has occurred. As a result of the application of the Maximum Exchange Number and depending on the market price of Ordinary Shares at the time, you may receive Ordinary Shares that are worth significantly less than A\$101.01 per PERLS XVI (based on the Initial Face Value of A\$100), and may suffer loss as a consequence. For example, assuming a VWAP of A\$15, the Exchange Number for each PERLS XVI is 6.7340 Ordinary Shares (using the formula in Section 2.3 "Mandatory Exchange"). However, the Maximum Exchange Number in the example above of 5.2632 is lower than the Exchange Number. As a result, the number of Ordinary Shares a Holder would receive, if they held one PERLS XVI, would be 5 Ordinary Shares (as a fraction of an Ordinary Share to be issued in respect of a Holder's aggregate holding of PERLS XVI will be disregarded). If those Ordinary Shares were sold on the ASX at the same price as the VWAP (being A\$15), the Holder would receive A\$75, thereby suffering a loss of A\$25 on their investment of A\$100 on the Initial Face Value of PERLS XVI. The Maximum Exchange Number will reduce if the Face Value has previously been reduced (following a previous Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event).	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 7.1	106

The VWAP will be based on the period of 20 Business Days before the Exchange Date. To provide some protection for Holders against this occurring on Exchange due to a Change of Control Event, CBA will only Exchange PERLS XVI due to a Change of Control Event where the Second and Third Mandatory Exchange Conditions are satisfied as modified by Clause 4.7(c) of the Terms. However, depending on the market price of Ordinary Shares at the time, you may receive Ordinary Shares that are worth less than the Face Value, and may suffer loss as a consequence. The Maximum Exchange Number will reduce if the Face Value has previously been reduced (following a previous Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event).	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 7.1	106

2.6 How will CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes rank in a winding up?

PERLS XVI are subordinated, unsecured liabilities of CBA.

		Further information	Page
No security	PERLS XVI are not secured by any assets of CBA or its Subsidiaries.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 1.1	98
Ranking in a winding up of CBA	Senior Ranking Obligations are all deposits and other liabilities, securities and other obligations of CBA (other than Equal Ranking Securities or Junior Ranking Securities). In a winding up of CBA, your claim will rank after the claims of holders of Senior Ranking Obligations, including creditors preferred by law and secured creditors.	Section 1.1.2 "Ranking of PERLS XVI in a winding up of CBA"	11,
	Your claim will rank equally with claims of other Holders and holders of Equal Ranking Securities. This means your PERLS XVI rank equivalently to a preference share.	Appendix A "Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes" Clause 1.5	98,
	Your claim will rank ahead of claims of holders of Junior Ranking Securities (being holders of Ordinary Shares).	Section 2.4 "Automatic Exchange on a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event" and Section 4.2.5.3 "Consequences of the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event"	29, 58
	However, on Exchange, Holders will become holders of Ordinary Shares and rank equally with other holders of Ordinary Shares and could lose all of their investment on a winding up of CBA.
	If, following a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event, Exchange fails to take effect for any reason and the relevant PERLS XVI are written-off, this will result in a Holder's investment in those relevant securities losing all of their value and they will not receive any compensation.

3.8 Financial information about CBA

You should focus on the financial position of CBA when deciding to invest in PERLS XVI.

CBA's consolidated income statements and balance sheets for the half years ended 31 December 2022 and 30 June 2022 and full years ended 30 June 2022 and 30 June 2021 are summarised in Sections 3.8.4 "Consolidated income statement" and 3.8.5 "Consolidated balance sheet". Regulatory information (including CET1, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital Ratios, Leverage Ratio, Net Stable Funding Ratio ("NSFR") and Liquidity Coverage Ratio ("LCR") for the quarter ended 31 March 2023 are summarised in Sections 3.8.1 "Capital adequacy" and 3.8.2 "Funding and liquidity".

Consistent with AASB 5 'Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations', certain businesses within the CBA Group have been reported as discontinued operations. Discontinued operations represent a separate major line of business or geographical area of operation that CBA plans to sell or close within the next 12 months, or that has already been sold or closed.

Businesses classified as discontinued at 31 December 2022 mainly include Colonial First State ("CFS") and associated transitional service agreements. On 30 September 2022, CBA completed the sale of Commlnsure General Insurance to Hollard. As Commlnsure General Insurance did not constitute a major line of the CBA Group's business, it was not classified as a discontinued operation. The assets and liabilities held for sale in relation to this business have been deconsolidated during the six months ended 31 December 2022.

Information in Sections 3.8.1, 3.8.2 and regulatory information (including CET1, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital Ratios, Leverage Ratio, NSFR and LCR) is presented including discontinued operations up to the date of their sale or closure. All other information in Section 3.8, unless otherwise identified, is presented on a continuing operations basis only.

The financial information presented in this section has been presented in abbreviated form. It does not contain all of the disclosures usually provided in an annual report or full year financial report prepared in accordance with the Corporations Act. In particular, the consolidated income statement and consolidated balance sheet have been extracted from the Profit Announcement for the half year ended 31 December 2022 and the 2022 Annual Report.

As a result, this Prospectus should be read in conjunction with the 2022 Annual Report of the CBA Group and any public announcements made in the period by the CBA Group in accordance with the continuous disclosure requirements of the Corporations Act and the ASX Listing Rules.

The Profit Announcement for the half year ended 31 December 2022 and the 2022 Annual Report are available from the Investor Centre at commbank.com.au/results and commbank.com.au/2022annualreport.

3.8.1 Capital adequacy

3.8.1.1 Capital adequacy framework

CBA is an ADI regulated by APRA and other regulatory bodies. APRA generally follows the principles for banking supervision developed by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision ("BCBS").

APRA adopts a tiered approach to the measurement of an ADI's capital adequacy:

- Level 1: CBA, or the "extended licensed entity" which is comprised of CBA and each Subsidiary of CBA as specified in any approval granted by APRA in accordance with APRA's prudential standards (as amended from time to time). This is the CBA Level 1 Group;
- Level 2: CBA and each Subsidiary that is recognised by APRA as part of CBA's Level 2 group in accordance with APRA's prudential standards (as amended from time to time). This is the CBA Level 2 Group; and
- Level 3: The CBA conglomerate group at its widest level. This is the CBA Level 3 Group.

APRA's regulatory capital requirements are measured and reported both on a CBA Level 1 Group and CBA Level 2 Group basis. While CBA is currently not required to measure and report regulatory capital on a CBA Level 3 Group basis, APRA has indicated that it intends to consult on the prudential framework related to conglomerate groups. See Section 3.8.1.8 "Regulatory developments" for further information.

An ADI is required to hold a certain level of regulatory capital against its RWA in order for such capital to absorb losses which an ADI may incur from time to time, and therefore protect depositors from realising such losses.

APRA classifies an ADI's regulatory capital into three categories for supervisory purposes – referred to as CET1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital.

CET1 Capital comprises ordinary share capital, reserves, retained earnings and certain other items recognised as capital, less prescribed regulatory adjustments. The ratio of such capital to RWA is called the CET1 Capital Ratio.

Tier 1 Capital is the sum of CET1 Capital and Additional Tier 1 Capital which comprises certain equity-like securities (such as PERLS XVI). The ratio of such capital to RWA is called the Tier 1 Capital Ratio. APRA has provided confirmation that PERLS XVI, once issued, will qualify as Additional Tier 1 Capital for the purposes of the regulatory capital requirements that apply to CBA.

Total Capital is the sum of Tier 1 Capital and Tier 2 Capital. Tier 2 Capital includes certain subordinated securities which are of a lesser quality than Tier 1 Capital. The ratio of Total Capital to RWA is called the Total Capital Ratio.

The strongest and most loss absorbent form of capital is CET1 Capital, followed by Additional Tier 1 Capital and then Tier 2 Capital.

Generally, higher capital ratios indicate an ADI's financial strength which is critical to the ADI's ability to refinance its debt, including Tier 1 securities such as PERLS XVI in the future.

3.8.1.2 Minimum capital requirements

An ADI is required to have a minimum CET1 Capital Ratio of 4.5%, a Tier 1 Capital Ratio of 6.0% and a Total Capital Ratio of 8.0%, each of which applies to both the ADI's Level 1 group and Level 2 group. The total of these minimum requirements, including any additional amount prescribed by APRA, is called the prudential capital requirement ("PCR"). The PCR represents the regulatory minimum CET1, Tier 1 and Total Capital ratios that CBA is required to maintain at all times.

APRA also requires ADIs to hold an additional capital buffer, in the form of CET1 Capital, above the ADI's PCR ("Capital Buffer"). From 1 January 2023, this consists of:

- a capital conservation buffer ("CCB") of 3.75%, unless APRA determines otherwise;
- a 1% buffer for domestic systemically important banks ("D-SIB"), such as CBA; and
- a 1% countercyclical capital buffer ("CCyB"). APRA has the discretion to increase or decrease the CCyB in the range of 0% to 3.5%.

This brings the total CET1 Capital Ratio requirement for D-SIBs, such as CBA, to 10.25% as of 1 January 2023. The Tier 1 Capital Ratio and Total Capital Ratio requirements are 11.75% and 13.75% respectively. From 1 January 2024, D-SIBs, including CBA, will be required to hold additional Total Capital to satisfy APRA's loss-absorbing capacity requirements, bringing the Total Capital Ratio requirement to 16.75%. From 1 January 2026, this requirement will increase again to 18.25%.

References to the minimum capital requirements applicable under APRA's prudential standards in this section are to the general minimums applying under APRA's ADI capital framework, rather than specific minimums applying to CBA.

3.8.1.3 Capital Trigger Event

Tier 1 securities (such as PERLS XVI) must include a Capital Trigger Event.

A Capital Trigger Event may occur if either or both of the CBA Level 1 CET1 Capital Ratio or CBA Level 2 CET1 Capital Ratio is equal to or less than 5.125% (see Section 4.2.5 "A Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event may occur").

If a Capital Trigger Event occurs, CBA must immediately Exchange such number of PERLS XVI (or a percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI) to return either or both the CBA Level 1 CET1 Capital Ratio or the CBA Level 2 CET1 Capital Ratio, as the case may be, to above 5.125%.

3.8.1.4 Distribution restrictions

Restrictions on the proportion of profits that can be used to pay Ordinary Share dividends, Tier 1 Capital distributions and discretionary staff bonuses will apply if an ADI's CET1 Capital Ratio falls into the ADI's Capital Buffer. The percentage of earnings able to be used for discretionary payments depends on whether the ADI's CET1 Capital Ratio, calculated on both a Level 1 and a Level 2 basis, is above the Capital Buffer or has fallen into the Capital Buffer as outlined in the table below.

Capital Buffer rules

CET1 Capital Ratio	Value range	% of earnings able to be used for discretionary payments
Above top of the Capital Buffer	Greater than PCR + Capital Buffer	100%
4 th Quartile	Top of range: PCR + Capital Buffer Bottom of range: greater than PCR + 75% of the Capital Buffer	60%
3 rd Quartile	Top of range: PCR + 75% of the Capital Buffer Bottom of range: greater than PCR + 50% of the Capital Buffer	40%
2 nd Quartile	Top of range: PCR + 50% of the Capital Buffer Bottom of range: greater than PCR + 25% of the Capital Buffer	20%
1 st Quartile	Top of range: PCR + 25% of the Capital Buffer Bottom of range: PCR	0%
	Less than PCR	0%

As outlined above, discretionary payments (such as Distributions on PERLS XVI) may not be paid if an ADI's CET1 Capital Ratio falls into the Capital Buffer. Distributions that are not paid do not accrue and will not be subsequently paid.

3.8.1.5 Surplus CET1 Capital above Capital Trigger Event and distribution restrictions

The diagram below summarises CBA's surplus capital above the level of CET1 Capital Ratio from which a Capital Trigger Event or distribution restrictions apply.

As at 31 March 2023, CBA's Level 2 CET1 Capital Ratio was 12.1%, which equates to a surplus of:

- approximately A$32.7 billion above the Capital Trigger Event; and
- approximately A$8.7 billion above the level from which distribution restrictions apply.

As at 31 March 2023, CBA's Level 1 CET1 Capital Ratio was 12.3%, which equates to a surplus of:

- approximately A$30.6 billion above the Capital Trigger Event; and
- approximately A$8.8 billion above the level from which distribution restrictions apply.

3.8.1.6 CBA's approach to capital management

CBA conservatively but proactively manages its capital position to avoid breaching the minimum capital requirements and to ensure it has sufficient capital to manage future growth. The Board and management are responsible for the setting of internal capital minimums and targets to ensure that CBA's capital is prudently above APRA's minimum capital requirements.

1. Assumes a CCyB of 1%. APRA has the discretion to increase or decrease the CCyB in the range of 0% to 3.5% at certain points in the economic and financial cycle with the aim of supporting ADIs to absorb losses and supply credit.
2. 4.5% CET1 Capital minimum requirement plus any additional amount prescribed by APRA.

CBA also conducts internal assessments of the appropriate level of capital to hold, and regularly stress-tests various scenarios to ensure that it holds sufficient capital to withstand such stresses. It takes into consideration the level of capital held by peer banks, both domestic and global.

CBA issues securities such as PERLS XVI to satisfy its Tier 1 Capital requirements and provide flexibility for future growth.

As at 31 March 2023, CBA's CET1 Capital Ratio was 12.1% under APRA's capital framework effective from 1 January 2023. CBA expects to operate with a post-dividend CET1 Capital Ratio of greater than 11%, compared to the revised minimum of 10.25%, except in circumstances of unexpected capital volatility. However, CBA gives no assurances as to what its capital ratios will be at any time. These ratios may be significantly impacted by future regulatory changes, unexpected events affecting CBA's business, operations and financial condition, any acquisitions or capital reductions (such as share buy-backs) and by APRA's prescriptions for the determination of these ratios.

Further information about CBA's approach to capital management can be found in the section entitled "Capital" in the Profit Announcement for the half year ended 31 December 2022 which is available from the Investor Centre at commbank.com.au/results.

3.8.1.7 Leverage Ratio

The Leverage Ratio represents the amount of Tier 1 Capital the CBA Level 2 Group holds against its on and off balance sheet exposures. This is a supplementary measure to the other capital requirements. Such capital absorbs losses which CBA may incur from time to time and protects depositors from realising such losses. Generally, a higher Leverage Ratio indicates CBA's financial strength which is critical to CBA's ability to refinance its debt, including PERLS XVI in the future.

A minimum Leverage Ratio of 3.5% applies to Internal Ratings-based ("IRB") ADIs such as CBA from 1 January 2023. As at 31 March 2023, CBA's Leverage Ratio was 4.9%. This means that, for every A$1 of exposures it had, it held A$0.049 of capital in the form of Tier 1 Capital.

3.8.1.8 Regulatory developments

On 1 January 2023, APRA implemented its revisions to the ADI capital framework. The objectives of these revisions are to increase the risk sensitivity within the capital framework, to enhance the ability of ADIs to respond flexibly to future stress events, and to improve the comparability of the Australian framework with international standards (see Section 3.8.1.2 "Minimum capital requirements").

In addition, APRA in Australia and RBNZ in New Zealand are also implementing a number of changes to their prudential standards. These changes are discussed in further detail below.

IRRBB consultation

APRA is currently consulting the industry on proposed changes to APRA Prudential Standard 117 ("APS 117"), which sets out the requirements that an ADI must meet in managing its Interest Rate Risk in the Banking Book ("IRRBB"). The changes are expected to be implemented from 1 January 2025.

Traded Market Risk and Counterparty Credit Risk

APRA is yet to commence consultation on revisions to prudential standards related to Traded Market Risk ("APS 116") and Counterparty Credit Risk ("APS 180"). Consultation is expected to commence in 2024 with revisions to both standards expected to be implemented in 2026.

New Zealand bank capital adequacy requirements

In June 2021, the RBNZ finalised New Zealand bank capital adequacy requirements. These requirements include the RWA of New Zealand IRB banks, such as ASB, increasing to approximately 90% of that required under a standardised approach. In addition, for those banks deemed systemically important, including ASB, the Tier 1 capital requirement will increase to 16% of RWA, of which 13.5% must be in the form of CET1 capital. Tier 2 capital will remain in the framework, and can contribute up to 2% of the 18% minimum total capital ratio. Existing Additional Tier 1 and Tier 2 instruments issued by New Zealand banks will no longer be eligible under the RBNZ's new capital criteria. These reforms begun being phased in from 1 October 2021 with full implementation on 1 July 2028.

Resolution Planning

On 18 May 2023, APRA released its final Prudential Standard CPS 900 Resolution Planning ("CPS 900"), which aims to ensure that an APRA-regulated entity can be managed by APRA in an orderly manner, where that entity is unable to, or is likely to be unable to, meet its obligations or suspends, or is likely to suspend, payments. In such circumstances, the aim of the resolution is to protect beneficiaries, minimise disruption to the financial system, and provide continuity of functions that are critical for the economy. CPS 900 will come into effect from 1 January 2024.

Prudential framework for groups

On 24 October 2022, APRA released a letter to all APRA regulated entities indicating that it is reviewing the prudential framework for groups operating in the Australian banking sector to ensure it caters for the increasing array of new groups and that it is consistently applied across different structures. APRA expects to consult on any revisions to the relevant standards over 2023-2024, with implementation of revised standards expected to be in 2025.

Recovery and Exit Planning

On 1 December 2022, APRA released its final Prudential Standard CPS 190 Recovery and Exit Planning (“CPS 190”), aimed at reinforcing the resilience of the financial system. In particular, the new standard aims to ensure that APRA regulated entities are better prepared to manage periods of severe financial stress. CPS 190 will come into effect from 1 January 2024 for banks.

Further information about regulatory developments can be found in the section entitled “Capital” in the Profit Announcement for the half year ended 31 December 2022 which is available from the Investor Centre at commbank.com.au/results.

3.8.2 Funding and liquidity

3.8.2.1 Funding

CBA raises customer deposits as well as long-term and short-term wholesale debt to fund its business activities, including lending. Customer deposits include transaction, savings and investment deposits raised from retail, business and institutional clients, predominantly in Australia. Long-term and short-term wholesale debt are raised both in Australia and overseas. CBA conservatively but proactively manages the amount, tenor and mix of its funding to ensure it has sufficient funding for its current business activities and to manage future growth.

It also manages its wholesale debt maturities to ensure that it is able to repay or refinance its liabilities when they fall due.

Under APRA’s liquidity prudential standard, CBA is required to comply with a NSFR requirement to have sufficient stable funding held against assets. APRA prescribed factors are used to determine the stable funding requirement of assets and the stability of funding. Under APRA’s liquidity prudential standard, CBA must maintain an NSFR of at least 100%.

As at 31 March 2023, CBA’s NSFR was 126%. This means that, for every A$1 of assets, it held A$1.26 of stable funding.

3.8.2.2 Liquidity

CBA ensures that it has sufficient cash and liquid assets (marketable securities and repo-eligible securities) to ensure that it is able to repay its short term liabilities, including repaying deposits, when they fall due.

Under APRA’s liquidity prudential standard, CBA is required to comply with a LCR requirement to hold sufficient liquid assets to cover net cash outflows projected under a 30 day stress scenario. Under APRA’s liquidity prudential standard, CBA must maintain an LCR of at least 100%.

CBA’s quarterly average LCR for the quarter ended 31 March 2023 was 134%. This means that, for every A$1 of potential net cash outflow, it held A$1.34 of liquid assets.

3.8.3 Explanation of CBA’s revenue model

CBA’s banking businesses primarily earn their revenue from the interest and fees charged for loans.

Some banking businesses, such as Institutional Banking and Markets, earn fees for services performed for customers. The funds management business earns fees for funds management services.

3.8.6 Summary of financial ratios

The ASIC Guidance suggests some financial ratios which may assist you to determine a company's financial capacity to pay interest, and repay the face value, on a bond. CBA does not calculate these ratios as they would not provide meaningful assistance given the nature of CBA's business, which is different to companies outside the financial services industry. Instead, the ratios required under APRA's prudential framework, as set out in the following table, may provide assistance.

See Sections 3.8.1 "Capital adequacy" and 3.8.2 "Funding and liquidity" for detailed explanations of these ratios.

3.8.7 Impact of the Offer on CBA

The Offer raises Tier 1 Capital to satisfy CBA's regulatory capital requirements and maintain the diversity of CBA's sources and types of funding.

The net proceeds of the Offer will be used to fund CBA's business. The Offer will not have a material impact on CBA's cash flow.

The following pro forma adjustments show the changes that would be made to CBA's consolidated balance sheet as at 31 December 2022, assuming the Offer was completed, A$1,550 million of PERLS XVI were issued and issue costs of A$23 million were incurred on 31 December 2022.

CBA has the ability to raise more or less than A$1,550 million of PERLS XVI.

1. No pro forma adjustment has been made for: (i) the impact of the payment of the interim dividend for the half year ending 31 December 2022 of A$2.10 per Ordinary Share amounting to A$3,546 million; (ii) the impact of share purchases since 31 December 2022 under the on-market share buy-back of up to A$3 billion (in the period from 1 January 2023 up to and including 19 May 2023, CBA bought back a total of A$335 million worth of shares).

CBA has the ability to raise more or less than A$1,550 million of PERLS XVI.

Due to the revisions to the ADI capital framework implemented on 1 January 2023 (see Section 3.8.1.8 "Regulatory developments"), financial ratios as reported on 31 March 2023 are considered more relevant for potential investors to understand the impact of the Offer.

CBA's Level 2 CET1 Capital Ratio of 11.4% as at 31 December 2022 translated to 12.1% under APRA's revised capital framework effective from 1 January 2023, well in excess of revised regulatory minimums as detailed in Section 3.8.1.2 "Minimum capital requirements". CBA's first full regulatory capital disclosure under the revised capital framework was released as part of its 31 March 2023 quarterly update on 9 May 2023. CBA's Level 2 CET1 Capital Ratio remained stable at 12.1% with capital generated from earnings, a net reduction in total RWA and movement in reserves, offset by the interim dividend for the half year ending 31 December 2022 and further progress on the previously announced on-market share buy-back.

The following pro forma adjustments show the changes that would be made to relevant financial ratios as at 31 March 2023 assuming the Offer was completed, A$1,550 million of PERLS XVI were issued and issue costs of A$23 million were incurred on 31 December 2022.

Risks of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes

- 4.1 Introduction
- 4.2 Risks associated with CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes specifically
- 4.3 Risks associated with CBA's businesses which may affect CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes

4.1 Introduction

There are risks which could affect an investment in PERLS XVI, including:

- risks associated with PERLS XVI specifically, many of which are outside the control of CBA; and
- risks associated with CBA's businesses which may affect PERLS XVI.

All principal or material risks and uncertainties that have been identified by CBA as at the date of this Prospectus are included in this section. Additional risks and uncertainties that CBA is unaware of, or that it currently deems to be immaterial, may also become important risk factors that affect CBA and therefore PERLS XVI. This list of risks is not exhaustive. CBA is subject to continuous disclosure obligations, requiring new material information to be announced to the ASX.

If any of the listed or unlisted risks actually occur, CBA's business operations, financial condition or reputation could be materially adversely affected and, consequently, Holders of PERLS XVI could lose all or part of their investment.

If you have any questions about these risks, you should seek advice from your financial adviser or other professional adviser before deciding to invest in PERLS XVI.

4.2 Risks associated with CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes specifically

4.2.1 Investments in PERLS XVI are not deposit liabilities or protected accounts under the Banking Act or Financial Claims Scheme

Investments in PERLS XVI are an investment in CBA and may be affected by the ongoing performance, financial position and solvency of CBA. They are not deposit liabilities or protected accounts under the Banking Act or otherwise protected under the Financial Claims Scheme. Therefore, PERLS XVI are not guaranteed or insured by any Australian government, government agency or compensation scheme of Australia or any other jurisdiction.

4.2.2 Holders of PERLS XVI are subordinated and unsecured creditors

In a winding up of CBA, Holders' claims will rank after the claims of holders of Senior Ranking Obligations, creditors preferred by law and secured creditors.

Holders' claims will rank equally with claims of holders of Equal Ranking Securities. This means your PERLS XVI rank equivalently to a preference share.

Holders' claims will rank ahead of claims of holders of Junior Ranking Securities (being holders of Ordinary Shares).

If, after the claims of holders of Senior Ranking Obligations, creditors preferred by law and secured creditors are satisfied, there are insufficient assets to pay all amounts owing on PERLS XVI and any Equal Ranking Securities, there is a risk that you may lose some or all of the money you invested in PERLS XVI.

In addition, on Exchange, Holders will become holders of Ordinary Shares and rank equally with other holders of Ordinary Shares (and below PERLS or other Equal Ranking Securities). This means, on a winding-up of CBA, holders could lose all of their investment.

For further information see Sections 1.1.2 "Ranking of PERLS XVI in a winding up of CBA" and 2.6 "How will CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes rank in a winding up?".

4.2.3 Distributions may not be paid

Payment of a Distribution is subject to:

- CBA, in its absolute discretion, making the Distribution to Holders;
- payment not resulting in a breach of CBA's capital requirements under APRA's prudential standards as they are applied to the CBA Level 1 Group or the CBA Level 2 Group;
- payment not resulting in CBA becoming, or being likely to become, insolvent; and
- APRA not otherwise objecting to the payment.

No Distribution will be paid on Exchange where Exchange occurs due to a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event.

Distributions may not be paid if CBA's CET1 Capital Ratio falls into the Capital Buffer. For further information, see Section 3.8.1 "Capital adequacy".

Distributions may not be paid if APRA objects to the payment of discretionary capital distributions.

Distributions that are not paid do not accrue and will not be subsequently paid. Non-payment of a Distribution on the relevant Distribution Payment Date will not be an event of default and CBA will have no liability to Holders in respect of the unpaid Distribution. However, from that Distribution Payment Date and until a Distribution is paid in full on a subsequent Distribution Payment Date (or all PERLS XVI are Exchanged, Redeemed or otherwise terminated), CBA cannot (subject to certain exceptions):

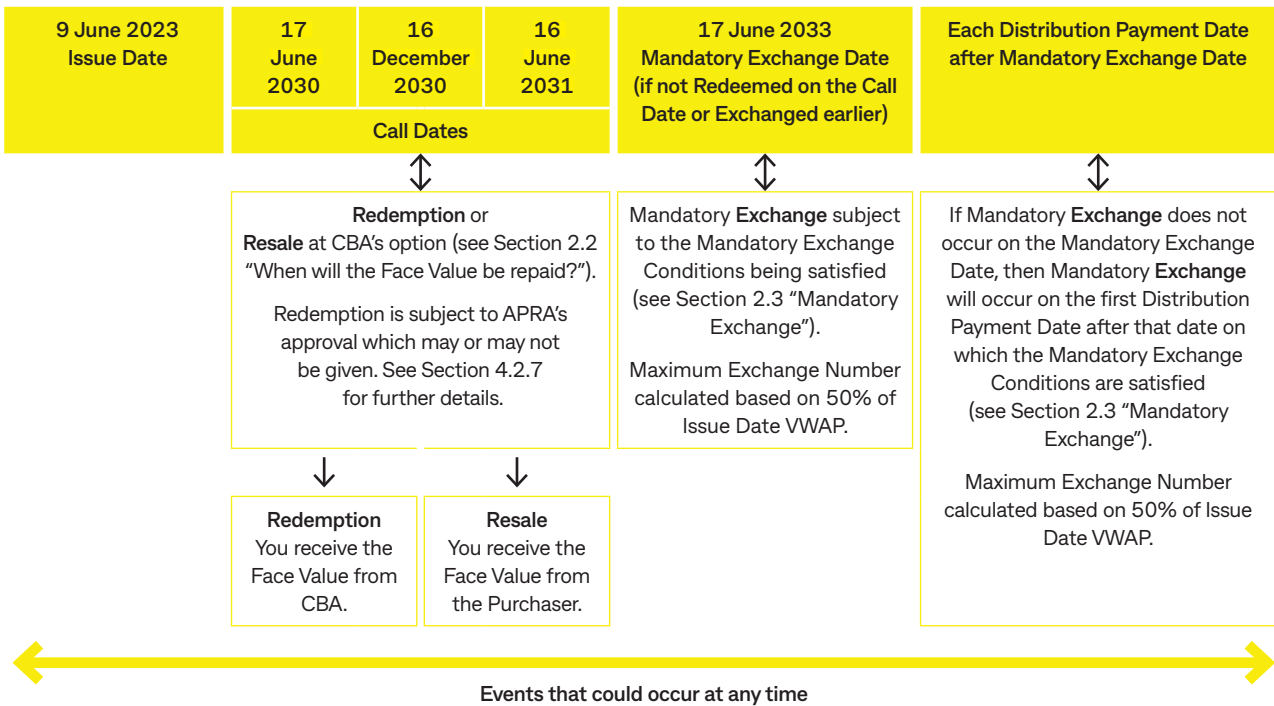

- declare or determine a dividend on Ordinary Shares; or
- return any capital or undertake any buy-backs or repurchases in relation to Ordinary Shares.

To prevent these restrictions from occurring, CBA must pay all Distributions when scheduled, or, if all or any part of a Distribution is not paid when scheduled, in full within 5 Business Days of the Distribution Payment Date. Therefore, CBA would expect to give priority to payments of Distributions and other similar Tier 1 Capital distributions to enable CBA to be able to continue paying Ordinary Share dividends.

Further, under the terms of some other securities issued by CBA, CBA may not be able to pay Distributions if it does not pay distributions on those other securities. If this occurs, the dividend and capital restrictions outlined above will apply.

4.2.4 PERLS XVI may be Exchanged for Ordinary Shares on the Mandatory Exchange Date or if certain events occur

PERLS XVI do not have a fixed maturity date but may be Exchanged into Ordinary Shares, Redeemed or Resold. The diagram below summarises when these events could occur. If none of these events occur, PERLS XVI could remain on issue indefinitely. Further, PERLS XVI may be Exchanged into Ordinary Shares for less than the Face Value or may be written-off.

Redemption at CBA’s option for tax or regulatory reasons or if CBA is unable to frank Distributions (see Section 2.2 “When will the Face Value be repaid?”).

Automatic Exchange if a Capital Trigger Event, Non-Viability Trigger Event or Change of Control Event occurs (see Section 2.4 “Automatic Exchange on a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event” and Section 2.5 “Automatic Exchange on a Change of Control Event”). Maximum Exchange Number calculated based on 20% of Issue Date VWAP.

Upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event, if Exchange fails to take effect for any reason and CBA has not otherwise issued the Ordinary Shares required to be issued in respect of such Exchange at the relevant time, Holders’ rights under the relevant PERLS XVI will be immediately and irrevocably terminated (written-off). This will result in your investment in the relevant PERLS losing all of its value – the Face Value will not be repaid and you will not receive any compensation.

4.2.4.1 Holders may receive Ordinary Shares on the Mandatory Exchange Date

Unless Redeemed or Exchanged earlier, PERLS XVI must be Exchanged on the Mandatory Exchange Date (subject to the Mandatory Exchange Conditions).

Normally, you will receive a variable number of Ordinary Shares with a value equal to A$101.01 (based on the Initial Face Value of A$100 and the VWAP of Ordinary Shares with the benefit of a 1% discount, see Section 2.3 "Mandatory Exchange"). For example, if the VWAP of Ordinary Shares immediately prior to the Exchange Date is A$90, you would receive 1.1223 Ordinary Shares per PERLS XVI¹. If the Ordinary Share price on the Exchange Date remained A$90, this would have a market value of A$101.01.

However, CBA will only be required to Exchange PERLS XVI if all the Mandatory Exchange Conditions are satisfied (see Section 2.3 "Mandatory Exchange"). For example, if the Issue Date VWAP is A$95, then:

- under the First Mandatory Exchange Condition, if the VWAP of Ordinary Shares on the 25th Business Day before the Mandatory Exchange Date is greater than A$53.20, the First Mandatory Exchange Condition would be satisfied;
- under the Second Mandatory Exchange Condition, if the VWAP of Ordinary Shares during the period of 20 Business Days before the Mandatory Exchange Date is greater than A$47.98, then the Second Mandatory Exchange Condition would be satisfied; and
- under the Third Mandatory Exchange Condition, if the Ordinary Shares are listed or admitted to trading on a securities exchange as at the date of the Mandatory Exchange Date, then the Third Mandatory Exchange Condition would be satisfied.

If any of these Mandatory Exchange Conditions are not satisfied, it means that Exchange will not occur. If Exchange does not occur, you will continue to hold your PERLS XVI until the first Distribution Payment Date after that date on which all the Mandatory Exchange Conditions are satisfied at which time Exchange will occur. PERLS XVI are a perpetual security and it is possible that the Mandatory Exchange Conditions may never be satisfied and that PERLS XVI may never be Exchanged.

If Exchange occurs, the value of Ordinary Shares you receive could be less than A$101.01 in some circumstances, including:

- if the Face Value has previously been reduced (following a previous Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event); or
- to realise the value of the Ordinary Shares, you sell them on ASX at the prevailing market price. However, depending on the time you decide to sell and the market price at that time, it is possible that your sale proceeds may be less than the Face Value.

4.2.4.2 Holders may receive Ordinary Shares upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event

Unless Redeemed or Exchanged earlier, PERLS XVI must be Exchanged upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event.

The Mandatory Exchange Conditions do not apply. Therefore, CBA will be required to Exchange PERLS XVI in all circumstances, regardless of the level at which the Ordinary Share price is trading, and the Maximum Exchange Number may limit the number of Ordinary Shares you receive.

If Exchange occurs, the value of Ordinary Shares you receive could be less than A$101.01 in some circumstances, including:

- if the Face Value has previously been reduced (following a previous Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event);
- the maximum number of Ordinary Shares that you can receive is limited to a number calculated based on 20% of the Issue Date VWAP. For example, if the Issue Date VWAP is A$95, then the Maximum Exchange Number would be 5.2632 Ordinary Shares per PERLS XVI²; or
- to realise the value of the Ordinary Shares, you sell them on ASX at the prevailing market price. However, depending on the time you decide to sell and the market price at that time, it is possible that your sale proceeds may be less than the Face Value.

If you wish to sell your Ordinary Shares, there is also a risk that Ordinary Shares may no longer be listed on ASX at the time of Exchange upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event and you may not be able to sell your Ordinary Shares at all.

1. The actual VWAP and number of Ordinary Shares that a Holder may receive on Exchange on the Exchange Date may be higher or lower than in this example. In addition, if the total number of Ordinary Shares to be issued in respect of a Holder's aggregate holding of PERLS XVI includes a fraction of an Ordinary Share, that fraction of an Ordinary Share will be disregarded.

2. Please refer to the illustrative example in Section 2.4 "Automatic Exchange on a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event".

4.2.4.3 Holders may receive Ordinary Shares upon the occurrence of a Change of Control Event

Unless Redeemed or Exchanged earlier, PERLS XVI must be Exchanged upon the occurrence of a Change of Control Event (subject to the Mandatory Exchange Conditions applying with the modifications in Clause 4.7(c) of the Terms).

The consequences of Exchange in this situation are the same as for Mandatory Exchange (see Section 4.2.4.1 “Holders may receive Ordinary Shares on the Mandatory Exchange Date”).

4.2.4.4 Consequences of holding Ordinary Shares

Ordinary Shares are an equity security and may trade at a market price which is affected by different factors from those affecting a hybrid security such as PERLS XVI. The market price of Ordinary Shares may be more sensitive than that of PERLS XVI to changes in CBA’s performance, operational issues and other business issues.

Ordinary Shares are a different type of investment to PERLS XVI. Dividends on Ordinary Shares are payable at the absolute discretion of CBA and the amount of each dividend is discretionary (not subject to a formula). In contrast, Distributions on PERLS XVI are payable in accordance with the formulae in Clauses 2.2 and 2.3 of the Terms and subject to the Distribution payment conditions in Clause 2.5 of the Terms.

In a winding up of CBA, claims of holders of Ordinary Shares rank behind claims of holders of all other securities and debts of CBA. In contrast, claims of PERLS XVI Holders rank ahead of holders of Ordinary Shares (unless Exchanged into Ordinary Shares in which case Holders will rank for payment as the holder of the number of Ordinary Shares to which they become entitled under the Exchange).

4.2.5 A Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event may occur

4.2.5.1 Definition of Capital Trigger Event and Non-Viability Trigger Event

A Capital Trigger Event occurs when CBA determines, or APRA notifies CBA in writing that it believes, that either or both the CBA Level 1 CET1 Capital Ratio or CBA Level 2 CET1 Capital Ratio is equal to or less than 5.125%.

The CET1 Capital Ratio is the ratio of CBA’s CET1 Capital to its RWA, where CET1 Capital is the strongest form of capital held by CBA.

If a Capital Trigger Event occurs, CBA must immediately Exchange such number of PERLS XVI (or a percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI) to return either or both the CBA Level 1 CET1 Capital Ratio or CBA Level 2 CET1 Capital Ratio, as the case may be, to above 5.125%.

A Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs when APRA notifies CBA in writing that it believes:

- Exchange of all or some PERLS XVI (or the exchange or write-off of other capital instruments of the CBA Group) is necessary because, without it, CBA would become non-viable; or
- a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, is necessary because without it CBA would become non-viable.

If a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs, CBA must immediately Exchange such number of PERLS XVI (or a percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI) as specified by APRA or necessary to satisfy APRA that CBA will no longer be non-viable. In the case of a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, all PERLS XVI must be Exchanged.

If, for any reason, Exchange of any PERLS XVI required to be exchanged due to a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event fails to take effect and CBA has not otherwise issued the Ordinary Shares required to be issued in respect of such Exchange within 5 Business Days after the date of the relevant event, then the Holder’s rights in relation to such PERLS XVI or percentage of the Face Value of PERLS XVI are immediately and irrevocably terminated (written-off).

4.2.5.2 Examples of situations in which a Non-Viability Trigger Event may occur

Whether a Non-Viability Trigger Event will occur is at the discretion of APRA. While there are currently no Australian precedents, there are a number of international examples where a regulator and/or government authority has invoked trigger event features in bank hybrid instruments, leading to a conversion and/or write-off of such securities. For example, in March 2023, increasing investor and customer concerns around Credit Suisse’s financial resilience led to a significant deposit outflow, which ultimately required the Swiss authorities to grant extraordinary liquidity support and a default guarantee. FINMA, the Swiss banking regulator, deemed this assistance to constitute “extraordinary government support” and hence a “viability event” under the contractual terms of Credit Suisse’s Additional Tier 1 instruments and required that those Additional Tier 1 instruments to be written-off.

In Section 4.3 “Risks associated with CBA’s businesses which may affect CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes”, a number of general risks associated with CBA’s businesses are outlined. These risks are examples only and not exhaustive, and there may be other risks which affect the performance of CBA. If one, or a combination, of these risks leads to a significant capital loss, or prolonged difficulties in raising funding or maintaining sufficient liquidity, this may be the type of situation in which APRA may become concerned and notify CBA that it has or would become non-viable. The circumstances in which APRA may exercise its discretion may also include a potential loss of investor and/or customer confidence with respect to CBA’s overall financial resilience, which could lead APRA to believe that CBA has or would become non-viable.

See Section 2.4 “Automatic Exchange on a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event” for the consequences of a Non-Viability Trigger Event with respect to PERLS XVI.

4.2.5.3 Consequences of the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event

The inclusion of the Capital Trigger Event and Non-Viability Trigger Event in the terms of capital securities has been a requirement under APRA’s prudential standards since 1 January 2013.

The inclusion of the Capital Trigger Event and Non-Viability Trigger Event is intended to provide a framework for the treatment of Holders if CBA experiences significant financial difficulty. Upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, CBA must immediately Exchange all or some PERLS XVI (or a percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI).

The Mandatory Exchange Conditions do not apply and the Terms provide that Exchange occurs automatically without the need for any further act or step by CBA and that CBA will recognise Holders as having been issued Ordinary Shares.

Any ASX trades in PERLS XVI that have not settled on the date a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs will continue to settle in accordance with the normal ASX T+2 settlement, although the seller will be treated as having delivered, and the buyer will be treated as having acquired, the number of Ordinary Shares into which PERLS XVI have been Exchanged as a result of the occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event.

If a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs because there has been a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, all PERLS XVI must be Exchanged.

However, the number of Ordinary Shares you will receive is limited to the Maximum Exchange Number. For further information about the consequences of the application of the Maximum Exchange Number, see Section 4.2.4.2 “Holders may receive Ordinary Shares upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event”.

If, following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, Exchange fails to take effect for any reason and CBA has not otherwise issued the Ordinary Shares required to be issued in respect of such Exchange within 5 Business Days, then Holders’ rights under the relevant PERLS XVI will be immediately and irrevocably terminated (written-off), and such termination will be taken to have occurred immediately on the date of the occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event. Your investment in the relevant PERLS XVI will lose all of its value – the Face Value will not be repaid and you will not receive any compensation. This could occur if CBA was prevented from issuing Ordinary Shares by circumstances outside its control, for example, if CBA was prevented by a specified law or order of any court, or action of any government authority, from issuing Ordinary Shares.

4.2.5.4 CBA proactively manages its capital, funding and liquidity positions to avoid experiencing financial difficulty

CBA conservatively and proactively manages its capital, funding and liquidity positions to avoid experiencing financial difficulty.

For further information about CBA’s capital, funding and liquidity positions, how they are managed and the CBA Level 2 CET1 Capital Ratio surplus above 5.125%, see Section 3.8.1 “Capital adequacy” and Section 3.8.2 “Funding and liquidity”. However, there are a number of risks which are wholly or partly outside CBA’s control as discussed in Section 4.3 below.

4.2.6 PERLS XVI may not be Exchanged on the Scheduled Mandatory Exchange Date

PERLS XVI may not be Exchanged on the Scheduled Mandatory Exchange Date because the Mandatory Exchange Conditions are not satisfied. This could occur, for example, because the Mandatory Exchange Conditions are not satisfied due to a large fall in the Ordinary Share price relative to the Issue Date VWAP, or if the Ordinary Shares are Delisted.

The market price of Ordinary Shares is relevant to determining whether Exchange will occur, and also the number of Ordinary Shares a Holder will receive on Exchange. The market price of Ordinary Shares may be impacted by transactions affecting the share capital of CBA, such as rights issues, placements, returns of capital, buy-backs, demergers, and other corporate actions. However, the Issue Date VWAP is adjusted only for pro-rata bonus issues of Ordinary Shares and certain types of capital reconstructions as described in Clauses 7.5 and 7.6 of the Terms and not for other types of corporate transactions such as those mentioned above. The Terms do not limit the transactions which CBA is permitted to undertake with respect to its share capital.

If Exchange does not occur, then (unless Exchange occurs in the meantime pursuant to a Capital Trigger Event and Non-Viability Trigger Event – see Section 4.2.5 “A Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event may occur”) you will continue to hold your PERLS XVI until the first Distribution Payment Date after that date on which all the Mandatory Exchange Conditions are satisfied. PERLS XVI are a perpetual security and it is possible that the Mandatory Exchange Conditions may never be satisfied and that PERLS XVI may never be Exchanged.

To realise your investment, you can sell your PERLS XVI on ASX at the prevailing market price. However, depending on market conditions at the time, PERLS XVI may be trading at a market price below the Face Value and/or the market for PERLS XVI may not be liquid.

4.2.7 CBA may Redeem, or procure a Resale of, PERLS XVI in certain circumstances

CBA has the right to Redeem PERLS XVI or choose that Resale occur on the Call Date, or Redeem PERLS XVI at any time for tax or regulatory reasons or if it is unable to frank Distributions. CBA’s right to Redeem PERLS XVI is subject to prior written approval from APRA. Approval is at the discretion of APRA and may or may not be given. APRA having approved the redemption of past PERLS securities is not indicative that APRA would approve the Redemption or buy-back of PERLS XVI.

APRA has stated that it would need to be satisfied as to the economic and prudential rationale for any redemption, and that ADIs, such as CBA, generally should not call a capital instrument and replace it with an instrument with a higher margin or that is otherwise more expensive, as it may create the expectation that the ADI may exercise a call option on other outstanding capital instruments. An exception would be where the ADI can (i) satisfy APRA as to the economic and prudential rationale of the call; and (ii) satisfy APRA that such action will not create an expectation that other instruments will be called in similar circumstances. In assessing the prudential and economic rationale for any redemption, APRA requires analysis from the ADI which demonstrates the cost of issuing a replacement instrument is equal to or less than the cost of keeping the existing instrument outstanding.

The timing or occurrence of the Redemption or Resale may not coincide with your individual preferences.

In addition, if PERLS XVI are Redeemed for tax or regulatory reasons or because CBA is unable to frank Distributions then, depending on market conditions at the time, you may not be able to reinvest the amount you receive on Redemption at a similar rate of return to the rate of return you expected on your PERLS XVI if you had continued to hold them.

4.2.8 Holders do not have a right to request that their PERLS XVI be Exchanged or Redeemed early Holders do not have a right to request that their PERLS XVI be Exchanged or Redeemed early for any reason.

To realise your investment, you can sell your PERLS XVI on ASX at the prevailing market price. However, depending on market conditions at the time, PERLS XVI may be trading at a market price below the Face Value and/or the market for PERLS XVI may not be liquid. For further information about liquidity risks associated with PERLS XVI, see Section 4.2.12 “The liquidity of PERLS XVI may be low”.

4.2.9 CBA may raise more debt and issue other securities

CBA has the right in its absolute discretion to issue additional Senior Ranking Obligations, Equal Ranking Securities or Junior Ranking Securities which may:

- rank for dividends or payments of capital (including on the winding-up of CBA) equal with, behind or ahead of PERLS XVI;
- have the same or different dividend, interest or distribution rates as PERLS XVI;
- have payment tests and distribution restrictions or other covenants which may affect PERLS XVI (including by restricting circumstances in which Distributions can be paid on PERLS XVI or PERLS XVI can be Redeemed); or
- have the same or different terms and conditions as PERLS XVI.

The Terms do not contain any covenants preventing CBA from raising more debt or issuing other securities, requiring CBA to refrain from certain business changes, or requiring CBA to operate within certain ratio limits.

A Holding of PERLS XVI does not confer any right to participate in further issues of securities by CBA.

A

It is difficult to anticipate the effect such debt or other issues of securities may have on the market price or liquidity of PERLS XVI.

4.2.10 The Distribution Rate will fluctuate

The Distribution Rate is a floating rate, based on the Market Rate (which is a floating rate) plus the Margin (which is fixed). The Market Rate will fluctuate and therefore the Distribution Rate will fluctuate. Over the term of PERLS XVI, the Distribution Rate may be higher or lower than the initial Distribution Rate on the Issue Date. It is possible for the Market Rate to become negative. Should this occur, the negative amount will be taken into account in calculating the Distribution Rate. However, even if the Distribution Rate becomes negative, there will be no obligation on Holders to pay CBA.

If the Distribution Rate decreases, there is a risk that the return on PERLS XVI may become less attractive compared to returns on comparable securities or investments.

CBA does not guarantee any particular rate of return on PERLS XVI.

4.2.11 The market price of PERLS XVI will fluctuate

CBA has applied for quotation of PERLS XVI on ASX. The market price of PERLS XVI on ASX will fluctuate due to various factors, including:

- changes in Australian and international economic conditions, interest rates, credit margins, inflation rates and foreign exchange rates;
- if CBA's financial performance or position declines, or if market participants anticipate that it may decline, an investment in PERLS XVI could decline in value even if PERLS XVI have not been Exchanged;
- changes to CBA's credit rating. For further information about the impacts of credit ratings on CBA, see Section 4.3.6 "CBA's results may be adversely affected by liquidity and funding risks";
- movements in the market price of equity and/or other debt issued by CBA or by other issuers;
- changes in investor perceptions and sentiment in relation to CBA or the financial services industry; and
- other major Australian and international events, such as a pandemic, hostilities and tensions, and acts of terrorism.

PERLS XVI may trade at a market price below the Face Value and the market price may be more sensitive than that of equity to changes in interest rates, credit margins and other market prices.

Should credit margins on comparable securities or investments increase, there is a risk that the return on PERLS XVI may become less attractive which could lead to a fall in market price for PERLS XVI.

If PERLS XVI trade at a market price below the amount at which you acquired them, there is a risk that, if you sell them, you may lose some of the money you invested.

CBA does not guarantee the market price of PERLS XVI.

4.2.12 The liquidity of PERLS XVI may be low

The market on ASX for PERLS XVI may not be liquid and may be less liquid than that of Ordinary Shares.

If liquidity is low, there is a risk that, if you wish to sell your PERLS XVI, you may not be able to do so at a price acceptable to you or at all.

CBA does not guarantee the liquidity of PERLS XVI.

4.2.13 Holders may be subject to FATCA withholding and information reporting

The objective of the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act ("FATCA") is to target tax non-compliance by US taxpayers with foreign financial assets, and requires reporting of such financial assets by third parties.

In order to comply with FATCA, it is possible that CBA (or, if PERLS XVI are held through another financial institution, that other financial institution) may be required (pursuant to an agreement with the IRS or otherwise under applicable law) to request certain information from Holders or beneficial owners of PERLS XVI, which information may in turn be provided to the IRS or other relevant tax authority.

If CBA or any other person is required to withhold amounts as a result of Holders and beneficial owners of PERLS XVI not providing the required information or documentation or is otherwise permitted to withhold in connection with FATCA under the Terms, then those Holders and beneficial owners will not be entitled to receive any gross up or additional amounts to compensate them for such withholding.

This information is based on guidance issued by the IRS or other relevant tax authority as at the date of this Prospectus. Future guidance may affect the application of FATCA to CBA, Holders or beneficial owners of PERLS XVI.

In addition, the OECD Common Reporting Standard for the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information ("CRS") requires certain financial institutions to report financial information regarding certain accounts to their local tax authority. The CRS applies to Australian financial institutions from 1 July 2017. Holders may be requested to provide certain information to ensure compliance with CRS. This information may be provided to the Australian Taxation Office which, in turn, may provide this information to other countries that have signed the CRS Competent Authority Agreement.

4.2.14 CBA may amend the Terms

CBA may amend the Terms in two ways:

- without the consent of Holders and subject to compliance with relevant laws – as set out in the Terms, including if the amendment is of a formal, technical or minor nature; to correct an error; to facilitate the listing; to comply with relevant laws; to amend any date or time period in connection with any Exchange, Resale or Redemption; where there is no material prejudice; or to enable the substitution of a NOHC as the debtor of PERLS XVI provided certain substitution conditions are satisfied; and
- with the consent of Holders – if a Special Resolution is passed.

In both cases, the Terms of all PERLS XVI will be amended. In particular in the latter case, Holders who did not vote with the majority will be subject to the amended Terms which may not align with their individual preferences.

CBA may also amend the Terms in circumstances where the Market Rate ceases to be available (i.e. a Market Rate Disruption Event occurs) and replace the Market Rate with an alternative rate that CBA considers appropriate (in some cases subject to APRA's prior written approval), acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, and make certain other consequential amendments to the Terms. Such amendments could adversely affect the interests of PERLS XVI Holders.

Certain amendments require prior written approval from APRA. Approval is at the discretion of APRA and may or may not be given.

4.2.15 CBA may substitute for itself a non-operating holding company ("NOHC")

CBA regularly considers its optimal operating structure. As a result CBA may substitute for itself a NOHC as the debtor in respect of PERLS XVI or as the issuer of ordinary shares on Exchange. If a NOHC is substituted as the debtor it means that you would no longer have rights against CBA. If a NOHC is substituted as the issuer of ordinary shares on Exchange it means that you will receive ordinary shares in the NOHC rather than CBA.

The implementation of a NOHC structure may involve CBA transferring some but not all of its business, and other Subsidiaries, to the NOHC or a Subsidiary of the NOHC. As a result, the profits and net asset position of CBA and the NOHC may be different to that of CBA prior to the NOHC structure being implemented.

4.2.16 APRA may appoint a Statutory Manager

In certain circumstances, APRA may appoint a statutory manager to take control of the business of an Australian ADI, including CBA. The statutory manager has specific powers to take certain actions which may affect the ongoing operation of CBA and therefore its financial position which is relevant to PERLS XVI.

4.2.17 ASIC may exercise its powers under the Product Design and Distribution laws

The PDDO Provisions give ASIC the power to issue an interim stop order in certain circumstances where it is satisfied that CBA has failed to comply with its obligations under the PDDO Provisions or has failed to take reasonable steps to ensure that distribution conduct in relation to PERLS XVI is consistent with the TMD. If issued, an interim stop order may prohibit CBA from engaging in distribution conduct in relation to PERLS XVI to retail investors while the order is in force. An interim stop order lasts for 21 days, providing time for ASIC to hold a hearing in relation to the financial product and consider whether to make a (non-interim) stop order.

The PDDO Provisions also give ASIC significant, proactive powers to issue product intervention orders if it believes that a financial product (such as PERLS XVI) has resulted, will result, or is likely to result in significant detriment to retail investors. The scope of the product intervention power is broad and includes (but is not limited to) the power for ASIC to intervene in relation to a particular financial product (such as PERLS XVI) or a class of financial products (such as bank hybrid securities) to prohibit or regulate the distribution of that financial product or class of financial products. ASIC may exercise the Product Intervention Power in relation to PERLS XVI or bank hybrid securities generally (which would include PERLS XVI) if ASIC is satisfied there is a risk of significant consumer detriment. ASIC can exercise this power regardless of whether CBA has complied with its obligations under the PDDO Provisions and the law generally in relation to PERLS XVI.

If ASIC were to exercise these powers in relation to PERLS XVI or bank hybrid securities generally, the issue and distribution of PERLS XVI may be restricted and you may be prohibited from or restricted in your ability to acquire PERLS XVI.

Further, there is a risk that such an intervention in relation to PERLS XVI, another issue of bank hybrid securities by another issuer or against such securities generally, may adversely impact the issue, distribution and reinvestment of financial products into the future, including instruments like PERLS XVI. These changes may also affect the liquidity of such instruments (including PERLS XVI), if they lead to a material reduction in future issuance volumes or secondary trading activity by investors.

4.3 Risks associated with CBA's businesses which may affect CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes

4.3.1 CBA's results could be adversely impacted by strategic risks arising from changes in CBA's external and internal operating environment

Strategic risk is the risk of material value destruction or less than planned value creation, due to changes in CBA's external and internal operating environment. Dynamically evolving current or emerging risks, such as macroeconomic conditions including the impact of high inflation levels and rising interest rates, cost of living pressures, the COVID-19 pandemic, the competitive landscape, emerging technologies and the regulatory and political environment, can challenge the business model and profitability assumptions underlying CBA's strategy.

While the Board regularly monitors and discusses CBA's operating environment, strategic objectives and implementation of major strategic initiatives, there can be no assurance that such objectives and initiatives will be successful or that they will not adversely impact CBA.

4.3.1.1 CBA may be adversely impacted by changes in political and macroeconomic conditions

CBA's performance is dependent on the state of the economies of the jurisdictions in which it operates or obtains funding, and customer and investor confidence and prevailing market conditions of those jurisdictions, which in turn are impacted by events in the global economy.

By the nature of its operations in various financial markets, CBA has previously been adversely impacted, both directly and indirectly, by unfavourable business, economic and market conditions. While the impact of any changes in political and macroeconomic conditions in Australia and New Zealand or globally remains uncertain, CBA may be materially adversely affected by such conditions where those conditions directly affect CBA's business or result in a protracted downturn in economic conditions globally and, in particular, in Australia and New Zealand or result in systemic shock due to market volatility, political or economic instability or catastrophic events associated with such conditions.

Such events include:

- the risk of persistent inflation despite rapid increases in interest rates globally which may exacerbate market volatility, further slow economic growth and increase unemployment, which in combination may cause further declines in business and investor confidence, as well as increasing the risk of unemployment and customer defaults;
- the risk of further contagion and consequent loss of investor confidence from recent bank failures which has cast doubt on the ability of other vulnerable banks globally to weather pressures on their businesses including the potential fallout from other such failures;
- the volatile regional and global economic conditions stemming from the COVID-19 pandemic, as well as reactions to future pandemics or resurgences of COVID-19;
- further escalations in trade restrictions and disruptions to global supply chains and consequential global inflationary impacts associated with the Russian invasion of Ukraine, or any other potential geopolitical conflict;
- any geopolitical tension or other event that adversely affects China's economic growth or Australia or New Zealand's economic relationship with China, including the implementation of tariffs or other protectionist trade policy;
- a further weakening of the Chinese economy, including by reason of a property development slowdown and weak real estate market, extreme weather conditions that have impacted a number of China's industries, a reduction in investment in the technology industry by foreign investors and ongoing trade tensions between China and major economies such as the US;
- any escalation in tensions in the Indo-Pacific region leading to increased protectionist policies and further global re-alignment of trading partners by nations; or
- the emergence of stablecoin cryptocurrencies which are backed by reserves of fiat currency and liquid financial assets such as bonds. These are largely unregulated with limited transparency over their reserves. As stablecoin use by investors grows, a crash could result in a fire sale of reserve assets, destabilising the real economy and possibly impacting access to short-term credit.

The effect of such events is difficult to predict, but a shock to, or deterioration in, the global economy could result in currency and interest rate fluctuations and operational disruptions that negatively impact CBA.

For example, global economic conditions may deteriorate to the extent that counterparties default on their debt obligations, countries re-denominate their currencies or introduce capital controls, one or more major economies collapse, or global financial markets cease to operate or cease to operate efficiently. Sovereign defaults may adversely impact CBA directly, through adversely impacting the value of CBA assets, or indirectly through destabilising global financial markets, adversely impacting CBA's liquidity, financial performance or ability to access capital. The strength of the Australian and New Zealand economies is influenced by the strength of the Australian dollar and New Zealand dollar, respectively. Significant movements in these currencies may adversely impact parts of the relevant economy and, in turn, CBA's results of operations as described in Section 4.3.7.

Events of the kind referred to above could cause a reduction in demand for CBA's products and services and/or an increase in loan and other credit defaults, bad debts and impairments and/or an increase in the cost of CBA's operations. Should these occur, it is likely that they will result in a material adverse effect on CBA's business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects, and also precipitate or aggravate the other risk factors described below.

CBA can give no assurances as to the likely future conditions of the economies of Australia, New Zealand or other jurisdictions in which CBA operates or obtains funding, which can be influenced by many factors within and outside these countries, which are outside CBA's control, including domestic and international economic events, political events, natural disasters and any other event that impacts global financial markets.

4.3.1.2 CBA may be adversely impacted by further declines in residential and commercial property sectors

The combined impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic, rising geopolitical tensions, and the conflict in Ukraine, have resulted in elevated energy prices; consumer demand spikes; wage inflation from labour shortages due to lower immigration levels; and supply shortages from global production disruptions due to COVID-19 outbreaks. This has led to persistently high inflation levels which have resulted in a higher and earlier than anticipated rise in interest rates globally and within Australia and New Zealand.

This may lead to further reductions in household consumption in Australia or New Zealand, economic growth, and Australian or New Zealand house prices. It could also lead to increased credit losses from business insolvencies; increased mortgage stress and defaults from higher leveraged borrowers; a potential adverse impact on markets; and a downturn in the global economy.

A material downturn in the Australian or New Zealand economies could adversely impact future results by reducing customers' demand for CBA's products and borrowers' ability to repay their loans to CBA (i.e. credit risk). In particular, given CBA's concentration of earnings from home loans, a significant or sustained decrease in the Australian and New Zealand housing markets or property valuations could adversely affect CBA's home and commercial mortgage portfolio, resulting in a decrease in the amount of new lending CBA is able to undertake and/or an increase in the losses that CBA may experience from existing loans. These factors could adversely affect CBA's business, financial condition, operations and prospects.

The demand for residential property may also decline due to buyer concerns about decreases in value, regulatory or tax changes or concerns about rising interest rates, which could impact demand for CBA's home lending products. If regulators impose supervisory measures that impact CBA's mortgage lending practices, or if Australian or New Zealand housing price growth significantly subsides or property valuations decline, the demand for CBA's home lending products may decrease and loan defaults could increase due to declining collateral values. This would adversely affect CBA's business, operations and financial condition.

A material decline in residential housing prices could also cause increased losses from CBA's exposures to residential property developers, particularly if such developers' customers that are pre-committed to purchase the completed dwellings are unable or unwilling to complete their contracts and CBA is forced to sell these dwellings for less than the pre-committed contract price.

CBA's portfolio of commercial property loans may be susceptible to asset price deflation, tenancy risk (comprising of underlying income generation from tenancy mix and vacancy levels), delivery risk and settlement risk, which may result in higher credit losses, refinance risk and deteriorating security values. Adverse impacts on CBA's commercial loan portfolio could emanate from lower levels of new origination activity and increased losses due to deteriorating security values and a less active refinancing market. A significant decrease in commercial property valuations or a significant slowdown in the commercial real estate markets in Australia or New Zealand, or specific regions or sectors (such as New South Wales), could result in a decrease in lending growth.

4.3.1.3 CBA is subject to extensive regulation and operates in an environment of political scrutiny, which could adversely impact its operations and financial condition

CBA and its businesses are subject to extensive regulation in Australia and across multiple regulatory bodies as well as other regulators in jurisdictions in which CBA operates or obtains funding, including New Zealand, the United Kingdom, Netherlands, the United States, China, Japan, Singapore, Malta, Hong Kong, India and Indonesia.

Key domestic regulators include APRA, ASIC, AUSTRAC, the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner ("OAIC"), the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission ("ACCC"), the Fair Work Ombudsman ("FWO"), the Australian Communications and Media Authority ("ACMA") the Australian Financial Complaints Authority ("AFCA"), the RBA and the ASX.

In particular, APRA, as CBA's prudential regulator in Australia, has very wide powers under the Banking Act, including in limited circumstances to direct banks (including CBA) not to make payments on their securities.

In addition to its key Australian regulators, a range of international regulators and authorities supervise and regulate CBA in respect of, among other areas, capital adequacy, liquidity levels, funding, provisioning, insurances, compliance with prudential regulation and standards, accounting standards, remuneration, data access, stock exchange listing requirements, and its compliance with relevant financial crime, sanctions, privacy, taxation, competition, consumer protection, employment and securities trading laws.

CBA and the wider financial services industry are facing increased regulation in many of these areas and jurisdictions and changes or new regulation in one part of the world could lead to changes elsewhere. A summary of some of the proposed regulatory changes that CBA is facing is included in Section 3.8.1.8 "Regulatory developments".

Any change in law, regulation, taxation, accounting standards, policy or practice of regulators, or failure to comply with laws, regulation or policy, may adversely affect CBA's business, financial condition, liquidity, operations, prospects and reputation, and its ability to execute its strategy, either on a short-term or long-term basis. The potential impacts of regulatory change are wide and could include increasing the levels and types of capital CBA is required to hold and restricting the way CBA can conduct its business and the nature of that business, such as the types of products that it can offer to customers. CBA is exposed to the risk of a change in tax law or interpretation in the jurisdictions in which it operates.

CBA may also be adversely affected if the pace or extent of regulatory change exceeds CBA's ability to adapt to such changes and embed appropriate compliance processes adequately. The pace of regulatory change means that the regulatory context in which CBA operates is often uncertain and complex.

4.3.1.4 CBA is subject to competition and digital disruption which may adversely affect its results

CBA faces competition in all of its principal areas of operation. Competition is expected to increase, especially from non-Australian financial services providers who continue to expand, and from new non-bank entrants or smaller providers who may be unregulated or subject to lower or different prudential and regulatory standards than CBA and are therefore able to operate more efficiently. These entrants may seek to disrupt the financial services industry by offering decentralised finance systems through bundled propositions and utilising new technologies such as blockchain and digital currencies.

CBA relies on deposits to fund a significant portion of its balance sheet. CBA competes with banks and other financial services firms for such deposits. Increased competition for deposits may increase CBA's cost of funding. To the extent that CBA is not able to successfully compete for deposits, CBA would be forced to rely more heavily on other, less stable or more expensive forms of funding, or to reduce lending.

In addition, a material portion of CBA's earnings is derived from mortgages. CBA faces increased competition for mortgages, particularly in relation to heightened refinancing activity expected in the current rising interest rate environment. If CBA is unable to compete effectively in its various businesses and markets, its market share may decline and increased competition may also adversely affect CBA's results by diverting business to competitors or creating pressure to lower margins to maintain market share.

4.3.2 CBA is routinely exposed to, and manages, risks that support or drive strategic decisions

CBA is routinely exposed to, and manages, a number of material risks that primarily support or drive strategic decisions that could impact profitability or business model assumptions. These risks are impacted by, or drive decisions relating to, other material risks.

4.3.2.1 CBA could suffer losses due to environmental and social risks

CBA could be exposed to financial losses or reputation damage from the impacts of climate change due to differences between stakeholder expectations and CBA's actual or perceived practices in relation to environmental and social issues.

Shareholders, community stakeholders and local and global regulators have increased their focus on climate change, and nature related matters (such as, biodiversity loss, all forms of pollution, and deforestation), increasing the risk of compliance breaches, shareholder activism and litigation risk (including class actions). Examples of this increased focus include the Treasury consultation process on climate-related financial disclosure and the introduction of similar specific climate-related disclosure requirements in New Zealand. Risk may arise due to the failure or perceived failure of CBA to manage climate change related risks appropriately, adequately disclose the extent and management of such risks, apply appropriate climate-related standards to its customers or meet climate change related commitments, goals or targets. This may increase the risk that third parties (including activist shareholders as well as regulators) commence litigation against CBA or its Directors, with this type of climate related litigation becoming more common in Australia and other jurisdictions. CBA is aware of such litigation and regulatory risks through its receipt of information requests relating to ESG matters and its engagement with activists, shareholders and regulators.

Such litigation may adversely affect CBA's reputation and may result in regulatory fines or penalties or other more indirect financial impacts, including loss of revenue foregone from carbon intense customers.

Climate change is systemic in nature, and is a significant long-term driver of financial, non-financial and strategic risk to CBA. A failure to respond adequately to the potential and expected impacts of climate change will affect CBA's long-term performance and can be expected to have Group-wide impacts for CBA in its lending (retail and business), procurement and investment portfolios.

There is an increasing risk that CBA's assets, including those held as collateral or investments, could become impaired where customers are unable to secure adequate insurance cover against permanent damage arising from more frequent and severe weather events and longer-term shifts in climate patterns. In particular there is a risk of the home lending portfolio accumulating an increased exposure to high risk assets over time, if appropriate action is not taken in the shorter term. Permanent damage to assets of customers could affect their ability to repay loans, leading to potential reputational risk arising from actions taken by CBA in situations of increased hardship and default. It could also impact the probability of default and losses arising from defaults, valuations and collateral as well as portfolio performance.

Disruption is also likely to occur from the adjustment to a low-carbon economy. This may be due to the nature and volume of regulatory policy, market, technological or community led transition requirements, and changing expectations. CBA's assets held in certain industries and/or locations, or those held in investment portfolios, could become less valuable as a result of being misaligned with low-carbon policy or community expectations.

The physical impacts of climate change and the transition to a low carbon economy have the potential to increase the number of vulnerable customers and hardship cases to be managed by CBA through house value declines and insurance affordability issues in higher risk zones; inflation increases from higher energy prices as nations seek to meet emission targets; unemployment in regions or industries previously dependent on high emitters; and customers impacted by severe weather events.

The financial performance of CBA could also be impacted if revenue foregone from carbon intense customers is not offset by financing opportunities in new 'green' or renewable industries. Further, any actual or perceived inadequate climate commitments by Australia, could result in loss of, or increased cost of capital or funding, carbon border adjustment taxes, and exclusion of Australian businesses (including CBA customers) from the significant future global transition economy.

Social risk may increase as community expectations shift in relation to how the financial sector interacts with people in vulnerable circumstances and marginalised members of the community. The number of customers in vulnerable circumstances is expected to accelerate in the near-term, exacerbated by the increased cost of living and economic pressures; a doubling in the rate of fraud and scams; a housing and rental affordability crisis due to lack of housing supply; and greater number of communities impacted by extreme weather events. This could lead to potential reputational risk arising from actions taken by CBA in situations of increased customer vulnerability, hardship and default.

Further, inadequate management of environmental and social risk by CBA or its customers may expose CBA to other potential risks across risk categories, such as liquidity, credit, operational, compliance and market risk.

CBA's reputation could also be adversely impacted by continuing to finance certain industries or customers that are carbon intense or environmentally unfriendly; setting portfolio emission reduction targets and strategies that do not meet community expectations; failing to support the generation of renewable energy to ensure the maintenance of a secure energy platform in Australia or in any other jurisdiction in which CBA operates; failing to reduce CBA's own emissions or manage its own environmental footprint; or failing to meet regulatory and reporting requirements, or adhere to public commitments.

CBA's reputation could also be impacted by financing or partnering with organisations that violate human rights and the rights of Indigenous Peoples; engage in modern slavery or have modern slavery in their supply chains; or have corrupt, unethical or weak governance practices.

4.3.2.2 CBA may be adversely affected by capability and culture risks

CBA may be unable to execute effectively on its strategy due to inadequate skills and capabilities and a misaligned organisational culture.

CBA's ability to attract and retain qualified and skilled executives, employees and Board members is an important factor in achieving the strategic objectives of CBA, and limiting operational vulnerabilities. The Chief Executive Officer, the Executive Leadership team and the Board have skills that are critical to setting the strategic direction, driving an appropriate organisational culture, successful management and growth of CBA, and whose loss due to resignation, retirement, death or illness may adversely affect CBA's business, operations and financial condition.

The progression of new technologies, such as AI, changing macroeconomic conditions, and increasing regulatory expectations, requires leaders with new and different skill sets (particularly engineering, technology, data, cyber, environmental and social and analytics), and deep banking expertise to deliver the performance expected by shareholders.

With historically low unemployment rates in Australia and New Zealand and high vacancy rates across the corporate sector, these skills are becoming increasingly difficult to attract and retain, particularly with the emergence of new non-traditional technology competitors who aim to compete directly in the banking sector.

CBA's business, operations and financial condition could be adversely affected if it has difficulty driving the appropriate organisational culture necessary to achieve its strategy, or retaining or attracting highly qualified people for important roles, including key executives and Board members, particularly in times of strategic change.

4.3.2.3 CBA may be adversely affected by capital adequacy risk

Capital adequacy risk is the risk that CBA does not hold sufficient capital and reserves to capitalise on strategic opportunities, cover exposures and withstand losses from extreme events. The current rapid rise in interest rates, removal of quantitative easing measures, large currency moves in some countries and market volatility create the need for CBA to closely monitor its capital position.

CBA must satisfy substantial capital requirements, subject to qualitative and quantitative review and assessment by its regulators. Regulatory capital requirements influence how CBA uses its capital and can restrict its ability to manage capital across the entities in the CBA Group, to pay dividends and Additional Tier 1 distributions, or to make stock repurchases, or require CBA to raise more capital, or restrict balance sheet growth. CBA's capital ratios may be affected by a number of factors, including earnings, asset growth and quality, movements in CBA's RWA, changes in the value of the Australian dollar against other currencies in which CBA conducts its business, changes in regulatory requirements, and changes in business strategy (including acquisitions, divestments, investments and changes in capital intensive businesses). Additionally, if the information, models, or the assumptions upon which CBA's capital requirements are assessed prove to be inaccurate, this may adversely impact CBA's operations, financial performance and financial position.

CBA operates an Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process ("ICAAP") to manage its capital levels and to maintain them above the minimum levels approved by the Board (which are currently set to exceed regulatory requirements). The ICAAP includes forecasting and stress testing of capital levels, which guide CBA in selecting any capital management initiatives it may undertake.

Should the ICAAP forecasts or stress tests prove to be ineffective, CBA may not be holding sufficient capital and may need to raise capital to manage balance sheet growth and/or stress.

4.3.2.4 CBA may be adversely affected by risks that undermine the trust of stakeholders and erode CBA's reputation

CBA's reputation is a valuable asset and a key contributor to the support that it receives from the community for its business initiatives and its ability to raise funding or capital. Damage to CBA's reputation may arise where there are differences between stakeholder expectations and CBA's actual or perceived practices. The risk of reputational damage may also be a secondary outcome of other sources of risk.

Various issues, including a number of the risks described in this Section 4.3, may give rise to reputational damage and cause harm to CBA's business, financial condition, operations and prospects. These issues include CBA's conduct (for example, inadequate sales and trading practices, inappropriate management of conflicts of interest, inappropriate management of emerging categories of vulnerable customers from cost of living pressures and increasingly severe weather events, and other ethical issues); breaches of legal and regulatory requirements (such as money laundering, counter-terrorism financing, trade sanctions; privacy and anti-hawking laws), technology and information security failures; unsuccessful strategies or strategies that are not in line with community expectations and non-compliance with internal policies and procedures. CBA's reputation may also be adversely affected by community perception of the broader financial services industry, or from the actions of its competitors, customers, suppliers, or companies in which CBA holds strategic investments.

CBA has in the past, and may in the future, be challenged on its strategy by shareholders, including institutional shareholders, and special interest groups. Areas which have attracted investor activism in Australia include making socially responsible investment and avoiding financing or interacting with businesses that do not demonstrate responsible management of environmental and social issues. The prevalence of investor activism could impact management's decision-making and implementation of CBA's initiatives, which in turn could adversely affect its financial results.

Reputational damage could also arise from CBA's failure to effectively manage risks, enforcement or supervisory action by regulators, adverse findings from regulatory reviews and failure or perceived failure to adequately respond to community, environmental, social and ethical issues.

Failure, or perceived failure, to address these issues appropriately could also give rise to additional legal or regulatory risk, subjecting CBA to regulatory enforcement actions, fines and penalties, or further damage its reputation and integrity among its stakeholders including customers, investors and the community.

4.3.2.5 CBA's performance may be adversely affected by sub-optimal investment allocation and ineffective delivery

CBA routinely manages a large number of strategic and transformation programs. There is the risk of expected outcomes not being achieved, or strategic opportunities being missed due to ineffective management of these initiatives, for example, due to operational complexity or the pace of execution being too fast for processes, people and systems to work as they need to, or too slow to keep pace with the changing environment.

There is also the risk of ineffective allocation and balance of CBA's resources that could result in missed strategic opportunities or the inability to effectively deliver on strategic objectives.

As part of focusing on its core business in Australia and New Zealand, CBA has undertaken a number of divestments in recent years, and continues to explore potential divestments of other non-core businesses or investments.

There is a risk that the cost and pace of executing divestments, including as a result of external approvals, may cause CBA to experience disruptions in the divestment, transition or wind down process, including to existing businesses, which may cause customers to remove their business from CBA or have other adverse impacts to CBA. CBA may also be subject to risks associated with ongoing liabilities and indemnities under the relevant sale agreements.

From time to time, CBA evaluates and undertakes acquisitions of other businesses, including the acquisition of equity investments in other businesses. While CBA endeavours to conduct all reasonable and appropriate due diligence on potential acquisitions, there is a risk that completed acquisitions may not perform as anticipated, and that the value of the relevant businesses or investments may fall. There can be no assurance that all relevant information will be identified and its implications understood. Failure to identify pre-existing issues through due diligence, or to obtain adequate contractual protections, may reduce acquisition success. In addition, there is a risk that CBA may not achieve the expected synergies or other strategic benefits from the acquisition, and may experience disruptions to its existing businesses due to difficulties in integrating the systems and processes of the acquired business. These risks may also cause CBA to lose customers and market share, and incur financial losses.

Multiple divestments and/or acquisitions at the same time may exacerbate these risks.

4.3.3 CBA may incur losses from operational risks associated with being a large financial institution

Operational risk is defined as the risk of loss resulting from: (i) inadequate or failed internal processes and methodologies; (ii) people; (iii) systems and models used in making business decisions; or (iv) external events. The continuity and resilience of CBA's operations is crucial for serving its customers, upholding community trust and maintaining its reputation.

CBA is exposed to operational risk through a number of specific risk types that require specific skills, infrastructure, procedures and governance to ensure effective oversight and management. CBA may also be adversely impacted by failures in the efficacy, adequacy or implementation of these risk-management strategies, frameworks and processes. The emergence of unexpected risks or unanticipated impacts of identified risks may result in financial or reputational losses for CBA.

4.3.3.1 Technology risks

CBA's businesses are highly dependent on its information technology systems, including those supplied by external service providers, to securely process, store, keep private and transmit information.

CBA provides numerous services to customers through a complex technology infrastructure that requires ongoing update, maintenance and configuration to ensure network, software applications and hardware, including those supplied by external service providers, are resilient and not disrupted by physical damage, equipment failure, malicious or unintentional acts, or ineffective change management processes.

Disruption to business systems from failure of technology infrastructure can materially impact customers, result in significant financial and reputational losses for CBA, and result in material fines and penalties.

4.3.3.2 Cyber-security risks

CBA's information technology systems, including those supplied by external service providers, are subject to information security risks. Cyber-attacks have the potential to result in serious disruption to customer banking services, or compromise customer data privacy.

Information security risks for CBA have increased in recent years, in part because of: (i) the pervasiveness of technology to conduct financial transactions; (ii) the evolution and development of new technologies; (iii) CBA's increasing usage of digital channels; (iv) customers' increasing use of personal devices that are beyond CBA's control systems; (v) increased remote working by CBA's employees; and (vi) more well-organised and resourced cyber criminals employing new technologies, such as AI to exploit vulnerabilities.

Cyber-attacks have the potential to cause financial system instability and current geopolitical tensions elevate this risk. The sanctions placed on Russia due to the invasion of Ukraine, and ongoing trade tensions between China and western economies such as the US and Australia increase the risk of cyber-attacks on Australian companies such as CBA.

Although CBA takes protective measures and endeavours to modify these protective measures as circumstances warrant, and maintains defensive capabilities to respond to security events of interest, its computer systems, software and networks, including those supplied by external service providers, may be a target for denial-of-service attacks, phishing attacks, ransomware attacks, computer viruses or other malicious code and other events. These threats could result in the unauthorised access, release, gathering, monitoring, misuse, loss or destruction of confidential, proprietary and other information of CBA, its employees, customers or third parties or otherwise adversely impact network access or business operations. For example, on 8 March 2023, CBA announced that its Indonesian Subsidiary, PT Bank Commonwealth experienced a cyber incident relating to an unauthorised access of web-based software application used for project management.

An information security failure (including the impact of any cyber-attack), or more general mishandling of data, could have serious consequences for CBA, including operational disruption, financial losses, a loss of customer or business opportunities, litigation, regulatory penalties or intervention, reputational damage, theft of intellectual property, loss or theft of customer data, and could result in violations of applicable privacy laws.

In 2022 and continuing into 2023, a number of large Australian corporations experienced significant cyber-attacks. Intense public response to these attacks has led to increased political focus with the potential for future significant increases in penalties for privacy breaches. Should CBA be the target of such an attack, there is a risk of reputational damage in light of the public response to such an attack and/or penalties imposed by a regulator which may materially adversely affect CBA's operations. The theft of personal information of some of CBA's customer base also has the potential to erode the reliability of CBA's know your customer ("KYC") identity verification procedures as stolen personal information could be misused for identity theft.

4.3.3.3 Third party risks

CBA's use of third party suppliers and third party partnerships, especially those where they supply CBA with critical services such as key technology systems or support, expose it to operational risks, including the potential for a severe event at a third party impacting CBA.

The COVID-19 pandemic and current geopolitical tensions, have led to, and may continue to lead to, uncertainty regarding the stability of global supply chains which has the potential to impact on third-party suppliers, causing disruption in the supply of services to CBA.

4.3.3.4 Transaction processing risks

CBA's businesses are highly dependent on their ability to process and monitor a very large number of transactions, many of which are highly complex, across multiple markets and in many currencies. CBA's financial, accounting, record-keeping, data processing or other operating systems, processes and facilities may fail to function properly or may become disabled as a result of events that are wholly or partially beyond its control, such as a spike in transaction volumes, damage to critical utilities, environmental hazard, natural disaster, or a failure of vendors' systems.

4.3.3.5 Non-technology business disruption risks

CBA is exposed to the risk of disruption to business processes from non-technological causes. This includes disruptions from natural disasters or pandemics, violence, social unrest, skills shortages in key roles, terrorist events and property disruptions.

The COVID-19 pandemic, and future outbreaks of other communicable diseases or pandemics, have the potential to introduce new and elevated risks to the resilience of CBA's operations. These include, safety risks to employees working in offices and branches, and disruptions to operations arising from remote working and reprioritisation of teams to service increased customer queries and hardship requests. There is an increased risk of complaints, reputational damage and conduct implications if increased volumes of customer requests for relief measures are not appropriately managed. Disruptions also increase the risk of potential non-compliance with ongoing regulatory obligations and commitments.

Disruptions can impact customers' ability to consume critical business services, including access to funds and ability to make payments and transfers. Prolonged or repeated business disruptions could result in material reputation risk, regulatory compliance failures and enforceable undertakings.

4.3.3.6 Data management risks

CBA manages a large volume of personal and sensitive data. There is a risk that poor decisions may be made due to data quality issues or failing to appropriately manage and maintain CBA's data. This includes the capture, processing, distribution, retention and disposal of data.

Failure to appropriately manage and maintain CBA's data, including use of data in a manner inconsistent with our obligations and values, or not complying with data management regulatory obligations, may result in a loss of trust, operational disruptions, financial losses or regulatory action.

4.3.3.7 Artificial intelligence risks

Artificial intelligence or AI are machine based systems that independently learn from data, and can, for a given set of human defined objectives, generate outputs such as content, predictions, recommendations, or decisions. AI includes technologies such as Machine Learning (identifies patterns and relationships in data, including supervised, unsupervised and reinforcement learning), dynamic or adaptive models, speech recognition, natural language processing and computer image recognition. AI is being used more often in banking across a range of business processes, including lending, customer service and financial modelling.

Not adopting AI within business processes could pose a strategic disadvantage to CBA relative to competitors who deploy AI tools to increase the speed and quality of decisions. However, inadequate adoption and management of AI in CBA's business processes, or by third parties it relies upon (including the inability to understand or explain AI decisions), can result in unwanted financial and non-financial consequences, such as decisions made by AI tools deemed unethical or not in line with CBA policies.

A

The sophistication of publicly available AI tools is increasing rapidly, which could expose the banking industry to a range of new risks as these tools are deployed widely in society. In particular financial crimes, fraud and cybercrime risks are expected to become more sophisticated through the use of AI.

4.3.3.8 Fraud risks

CBA is routinely exposed to the risk of fraud from third party suppliers, CBA customers or by an internal or external party. This can include the theft of funds, unauthorised trading or the theft of assets and non-electronic information.

A global increase in fraud and scams against customers and CBA, has been observed since the COVID-19 pandemic. Scams, frauds and financial crimes could continue to increase materially due to corporate cyber-attacks against Australian corporations where theft of private data could erode the reliability of CBA's existing KYC processes as stolen personal information could be misused for identity theft.

Increased focus on protection of vulnerable customers has the potential to result in Australian regulators imposing a shared liability model where banks become accountable for a portion of the frauds and scams perpetrated against our customers.

4.3.3.9 Model risks

As a large financial institution, CBA relies on a number of models for material business decisions. Incorrect model design or improper model implementation, maintenance and application can result in incorrect business decisions. This risk is increasing with the use of emerging technologies such as AI, which require new capabilities and model risk management approaches.

Changing circumstances require rapid updates to models which increases the risk of reporting errors. This increases the risk of not disclosing to the market appropriately as circumstances change, or of failing to comply with CBA's continuous disclosure obligations.

4.3.3.10 People risks

CBA employs a large workforce and is therefore exposed to the risk of breaches of employment legislation, mismanagement of employee relations, and physical or mental injury or death of employees or people on CBA premises where CBA is liable.

Due to the size and complexity of the CBA workforce, adverse developments or decisions in labour law may have an impact on CBA's employment arrangements, including a loss of flexibility in the use of CBA's workforce or the labour cost base, any of which may have an adverse impact on CBA's financial performance and reputation. In addition, if employees take industrial action, CBA could be exposed to loss to the extent the industrial action impairs CBA's ability to provide services or causes disruptions to CBA's operations.

4.3.3.11 Accounting and taxation risks

CBA may be exposed to risks from not meeting statutory and regulatory reporting, tax payment and filing requirements. Management must exercise judgment in selecting and applying CBA's accounting policies so that not only do they comply with generally accepted accounting principles but they also reflect the most appropriate manner in which to record and report on the financial position and results of operations of CBA. Inappropriate application of and changes to accounting policies may adversely impact CBA's results.

4.3.4 CBA is subject to compliance risk, which could adversely impact its future results and reputation

Compliance risk is the risk of legal or regulatory sanctions, material financial loss, or loss of reputation that CBA may suffer as a result of its failure to comply, or perceived failure to comply, with the requirements of relevant laws, regulatory bodies, industry standards and/or codes. Compliance risk may also arise where CBA interprets its obligations differently from regulators or a court.

Increasing volume, complexity and global reach of such requirements, and the increased propensity for sanctions and the level of financial penalties for breaches of requirements, could adversely impact on CBA's results and reputation.

This includes for example, financial crime related obligations such as anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism financing laws, anti-bribery and corruption laws, modern slavery laws, and economic and trade sanctions laws in the jurisdictions in which it operates. The number and wide reach of these obligations, combined with the increasing global focus on compliance with and enforcement of these obligations, presents a risk of adverse impacts on CBA, including to its reputation.

4.3.4.1 CBA's business could be negatively impacted by substantial legal liability or regulatory action

Due to the scale of CBA's operations, CBA is exposed to the risk of potentially breaching laws, regulations, rules, licence conditions, and statements of regulatory policy applicable to its business activities. This may result in substantial legal liability or regulatory action against CBA or its officers and employees.

The Group is party to a number of legal proceedings, and the subject of various investigations and reviews. Contingent liabilities exist with respect to such matters where it is not possible to determine the extent of any obligations to remediate arising from the occurrence or non-occurrence of uncertain future events or the potential liability cannot be reliably estimated.

If CBA is ordered to pay money (for example, damages, fines, penalties or legal costs), has orders made against its assets (for example, a charging order or writ of execution), is ordered to carry out actions which adversely affect its business operations or reputation (for example, corrective advertising) or is otherwise subject to adverse outcomes or reaches a monetary settlement of litigation, arbitration and regulatory proceedings, CBA's business, financial condition, operations, prospects and reputation may be adversely affected.

There are a number of ongoing matters where regulators are investigating whether CBA or a Group entity breached laws or regulatory obligations or where a regulator has commenced proceedings against CBA or a Group entity. These matters include investigations of issues which were notified to, or identified by, regulators. Where a breach has occurred, regulators are likely to impose, or apply to a court for fines, and/or other sanctions.

In addition to possible regulatory action, CBA may also be exposed to claims by customers, third parties and shareholders including current and future class actions or other legal proceedings, customer remediation or compensation claims.

While the final outcome and costs associated with regulatory actions and other claims remain uncertain, if CBA or a Group entity was unsuccessful in defending or reaches a settlement of such actions and claims, they may individually or in aggregate have a material adverse impact on CBA's business and financial position. For further information on legal, regulatory and industry matters, refer to Note 7.2 to the Financial Statements in the Profit Announcement for the half year ended 31 December 2022.

4.3.4.2 CBA may incur losses as a result of the inappropriate conduct of its staff

CBA could be adversely affected if an employee, contractor or external service provider does not act in accordance with regulations or CBA's policies and procedures, engages in inappropriate or fraudulent conduct, or unintentionally fails to meet a professional obligation to specific clients. Examples are inadequate or defective financial advice, product defects and unsuitability, market manipulation, insider trading, privacy or data security breaches and misleading or deceptive conduct in advertising. As a result, CBA could incur losses, financial penalties and reputational damage, and could be subject to legal or regulatory action.

4.3.4.3 CBA may incur losses as a result of not complying with Financial Crime legislation

Banks have a critical role to play in combating financial crime and protecting the integrity of the financial system. CBA is required to comply with legislation targeting financial criminal activities globally. This includes legislation relating to sanctions, anti-money laundering, counter-terrorism financing and anti-bribery and corruption and anti-tax evasion facilitation. Not detecting or preventing financial crimes can have a significant impact on CBA's customers and the community and can result in significant fines and penalties for CBA.

A global increase in financial crimes has been observed since the COVID-19 pandemic and this may continue and CBA may be adversely affected as a result.

4.3.4.4 CBA may incur losses as a result of not complying with Privacy legislation

CBA collects and manages a large volume of personal and sensitive information of individuals. Failure to adequately collect and secure this data in line with local and international privacy laws can expose CBA to material reputational damage, fines and penalties.

4.3.5 CBA may incur losses associated with credit risk exposures

CBA assumes counterparty risk in connection with its lending, trading, derivatives, insurance and other businesses as it relies on the ability of its counterparties to satisfy their financial obligations to CBA on a timely basis. For example, customers may default on their home, personal and business loans, and trades may fail to settle due to non-payment by a counterparty or a systems failure by clearing agents, exchanges, or other financial intermediaries. This risk also arises from CBA's exposure to lenders' mortgage insurance and re-insurance providers. There is also a risk that CBA's

rights against counterparties may not be enforceable in certain circumstances.

Counterparties may default on their obligations due to insolvency, lack of liquidity, operational failure or other reasons. This risk may be increased by a deterioration in economic conditions and a sustained high level of unemployment. In assessing whether to extend credit or enter into other transactions, CBA relies on counterparties providing information that is accurate and not misleading, including financial statements and other financial information. CBA's financial performance could be negatively impacted to the extent that it relies on information that is inaccurate or materially misleading.

The higher and earlier than anticipated rises in interest rates could lead to business insolvencies, increased mortgage stress and defaults. In addition, the Reserve Bank of Australia has projected that the majority of all Australian home loans which were on a fixed interest rate in early 2022 will transition to a variable rate by the end of 2024. As these deals near their end, homeowners will face an increase in their mortgage repayments, increasing the potential for mortgage stress and defaults.

Unexpected credit losses could have a significant adverse effect on CBA's business, financial condition, operations and prospects.

4.3.6 CBA's results may be adversely affected by liquidity and funding risks

CBA is subject to liquidity and funding risks, which could adversely impact its future results. Liquidity risk is the risk of being unable to meet financial obligations as and when they fall due. Funding risk is the risk of over-reliance on a funding source to the extent that a change or increased competition in that funding source could increase overall funding costs or cause difficulty in raising funds. A loss of investor and/or customer confidence in the financial resilience of CBA may exacerbate CBA's liquidity and funding risks.

Further information on liquidity and funding risk is outlined in the following sub-sections and is also included in the 2022 Annual Report. The 2022 Annual Report is available from the Investor Centre at commbank.com.au/annualreport.

i) Adverse financial and credit market conditions may significantly affect CBA's ability to access international debt markets, on which it relies for a substantial amount of its wholesale funding

While the majority of CBA's funding comes from deposits, it remains reliant on offshore wholesale funding markets to source a significant amount of its funding and grow its business.

Global market volatility may adversely impact the cost of, and CBA's ability to access, wholesale funding markets, and may also result in increased competition for, and therefore the cost of deposits in Australia.

Recent bank failures (including the regulatory, government and central bank responses to stabilise the banking system), the COVID-19 pandemic and the Russian invasion of Ukraine have had, and are expected to continue to have, a significant impact on the global economy and global markets. Fiscal and monetary stimulus and liquidity measures impacted the availability of funding during the COVID-19 pandemic. The end of these stimulus measures has resulted in increased competition for deposits and other funding sources, and therefore increased funding costs.

If CBA is unable to pass its increased funding costs on to its customers, CBA's financial performance will decline due to lower net interest margins. If CBA is forced to seek alternative sources of funding, the availability of such alternative funding and the terms on which it may be available will depend on a variety of factors, including prevailing financial and credit market conditions. Even if available, the cost of these alternatives may be more expensive or they may only be available on unfavourable terms, which may adversely impact CBA's cost of borrowing and CBA's on-going operations and funding. If CBA is unable to source appropriate and timely funding, it may also be forced to reduce its lending or consider selling assets.

ii) CBA may not be able to maintain adequate levels of liquidity and funding, which would adversely affect CBA's business, financial condition, operations and prospects

CBA's liquidity and funding policies are designed to ensure that it will meet its debts and other obligations as and when they fall due. Although CBA actively monitors and manages its liquidity and funding positions, there are factors outside CBA's control which could adversely affect these positions. For example, if financial markets are closed for an extended period of time, if there is a change in customer behaviour or if there is a loss of investor and/or customer confidence in the financial resilience of CBA, it may lead to an outflow of deposits which will adversely impact CBA's liquidity and funding position.

If CBA fails to maintain adequate levels of liquidity and funding, it would adversely affect CBA's business, financial condition, operations and prospects.

iii) Failure to maintain credit ratings could adversely affect CBA's cost of funds, liquidity, access to debt and capital markets and competitive position

CBA's credit ratings (which are strongly influenced by Australia's sovereign credit rating) affect the cost and availability of its funding from debt and other funding sources. Credit ratings could be used by potential customers, lenders and investors in deciding whether to transact with or invest in CBA.

A downgrade to CBA's credit ratings, or Australia's sovereign credit rating, could adversely affect CBA's cost of funds, liquidity, access to debt and capital markets, collateralisation requirements and competitive position.

Some ratings agencies also assign ratings to regulatory capital securities (such as PERLS XVI) for use by wholesale investors and may announce changes to their rating methodology and/or to the securities' ratings, either during the Offer Period or after PERLS XVI has been issued.

4.3.7 CBA may be adversely affected by market risks

CBA is exposed to market risks, including the potential for losses arising from adverse changes in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, commodity and equity prices, credit spreads, basis risk, and implied volatility levels for assets and liabilities. This exposure is split between traded market risks, primarily through providing services to customers on a global basis, and non-traded market risks, predominantly interest rate risk in the banking book.

Changes in market factors such as potential developments or future changes in the administration of financial benchmark interest rates could result in adverse consequences to the return on, value of and market for, securities and other instruments whose returns are linked to any such benchmark, including those securities or other instruments issued by CBA. If CBA was to suffer substantial losses due to any market volatility, it may adversely affect CBA's capital position, financial performance or financial condition.

Additionally, a significant proportion of CBA's wholesale funding and some of its profits and investments are in commodities and currencies other than the Australian dollar, primarily the U.S. dollar, the Euro and the New Zealand dollar. This exposes CBA to exchange rate risk on these activities, as its functional and financial reporting currency is the Australian dollar. These activities are hedged where appropriate, however there are also risks associated with hedging, for example, a hedge counterparty may default on its obligations to CBA. For a description of these specific risks, see Note 9.3 to the Financial Statements in the 2022 Annual Report. There can be no assurance that CBA's exchange rate hedging arrangements or hedging policy will be sufficient or effective. CBA's results of operations may be adversely affected if its hedges are not effective to mitigate exchange rate risks, if CBA is inappropriately hedged or if a hedge provider defaults on its obligations under CBA's hedging agreements.

5.3 Summary of Australian tax consequences for Holders

5.3.1 Introduction

The following is a summary of the Australian tax consequences for certain Australian resident Holders and non-Australian resident Holders who subscribe for PERLS XVI under the Offer.

This summary is not exhaustive and you should seek advice from your financial adviser or other professional adviser before deciding to invest in PERLS XVI. In particular, this summary does not consider the consequences for Holders who:

- acquire PERLS XVI otherwise than under the Offer;
- hold PERLS XVI in their business of share trading, dealing in securities or otherwise hold their PERLS XVI on revenue account or as trading stock;
- are subject to the "taxation of financial arrangements" provisions in Division 230 of the Tax Act in relation to their Holding of PERLS XVI;
- in relation to an Australian resident, hold their PERLS XVI through a permanent establishment outside of Australia; and/or
- in relation to a non-Australian resident, hold their PERLS XVI through a permanent establishment in Australia.

This summary is not intended to be, nor should it be construed as being investment, legal or tax advice to any particular Holder.

This summary is based on Australian tax laws and regulations, interpretations of such laws and regulations, and administrative practice as at the date of this Prospectus.

5.3.2 Class ruling sought on PERLS XVI

CBA has applied to the ATO for a public class ruling confirming certain Australian income tax consequences for Australian resident Holders. In accordance with usual practice, a class ruling will only be issued after the public announcement of a transaction and will not become operative until it is published in the Government Gazette.

When issued, copies of the class ruling will be available from ato.gov.au and from the Investor Centre at commbank.com.au/perls.

It is expected that, when issued, the class ruling will:

- only be binding on the Commissioner of Taxation if the Offer is carried out in the specific manner described in the class ruling;
- only apply to Australian resident Holders that are within the class of entities specified in the class ruling, which is expected to be Australian resident Holders who acquire their PERLS XVI through the Offer and hold them on capital account for tax purposes. Therefore, the class ruling will not apply to Australian resident Holders who hold their PERLS XVI as trading stock or on revenue account;
- only rule on taxation laws applicable as at the date the class ruling is issued;
- not consider the tax consequences of an automatic early Exchange on the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event, Non-Viability Trigger Event or Change of Control Event;
- not consider the taxation treatment of Distributions received by partnerships or trustee investors; and
- not consider the tax consequences for Australian resident Holders for whom gains and losses from PERLS XVI are subject to the “taxation of financial arrangements” provisions in Division 230 of the Tax Act. It is noted that Division 230 will generally not apply to the financial arrangements of individuals, unless an election has been made for those rules to apply.

5.3.3 Distributions on PERLS XVI

PERLS XVI should be characterised as non-share equity interests for Australian income tax purposes.

5.3.3.1 Australian resident Holders

Distributions should be treated as non-share dividends that are frankable.

Generally, provided that a Holder is a “qualified person” and the ATO does not make a determination under any anti-avoidance rules to effectively deny the benefit of franking credits to the Holder, the Holder:

- should include the amount of the Distribution as well as an amount equal to the franking credits attached to the Distribution in their assessable income in the income year in which they received the Distribution; and
- should qualify for a tax offset equal to the franking credits attached to the Distribution which can be applied against their income tax liability for the relevant income year.

A Holder that is an individual or complying superannuation fund may be able to receive a cash tax refund from the ATO if the tax offset equal to the franking credits attached to the Distribution exceeds the tax payable on the Holder’s total taxable income. A Holder that is a company will not be entitled to a tax refund of any excess franking credits. Rather, the surplus franking credits may be converted to a tax loss which can be carried forward to future years (subject to the Holder satisfying certain loss carry forward rules).

A Holder should be a “qualified person” if the “holding period rule” and the “related payments rule” are satisfied. Generally:

- to satisfy the “holding period rule”, a Holder must have held their PERLS XVI “at risk” for a continuous period of at least 90 days (excluding the day of disposal) within a period beginning on the day after the day on which they are acquired and ending on the 90th day after they become ex-distribution. To be held “at risk”, a Holder must retain 30% or more of the risks and benefits associated with holding their PERLS XVI. Where a Holder undertakes risk management strategies in relation to their PERLS XVI (e.g. by the use of limited recourse loans, options or other derivatives), the Holder’s ability to satisfy the “at risk” requirement of the “holding period rule” may be affected; and
- under the “related payments rule”, a Holder who is obliged to make a “related payment” (essentially a payment passing on the benefit of the Distribution) in respect of a Distribution must hold the PERLS XVI “at risk” for at least 90 days (not including the days of acquisition and disposal) within each period beginning 90 days before, and ending 90 days after, they become ex-distribution.

A Holder who is an individual is automatically treated as a “qualified person” for these purposes if the total amount of the tax offsets in respect of all franked amounts to which the Holder is entitled in an income year does not exceed A$5,000. This is referred to as the “small shareholder rule”. However, a Holder will not be

a “qualified person” under the small shareholder rule if “related payments” have been made, or will be made, in respect of such amounts.

There are anti-avoidance rules which can deny the benefit of franking credits to Holders in certain situations.

Of the anti-avoidance rules, the most significant is in section 177EA of the Tax Act. The High Court in Andrew Vincent Mills v FCT [2012] HCA 51 (“Mills”) considered the operation of section 177EA in the context of the PERLS V securities issued by CBA on 14 October 2009. The High Court unanimously held that section 177EA did not apply in respect of frankable distributions paid on the PERLS V securities.

In light of the decision in Mills, and having regard to the ATO’s current practices, neither section 177EA, nor other anti-avoidance rules, should apply to Distributions on PERLS XVI, subject to the particular circumstances of a Holder.

The Australian Government has also recently introduced into Parliament the Treasury Laws Amendment (2023 Measures No.1) Bill 2023. This bill includes a provision which is targeted at certain arrangements where a franked distribution is funded, directly or indirectly, by an issue of equity interests. The draft provision is an anti-avoidance provision and, where it applies may treat the relevant distribution as unfrankable. The provision, if enacted in its current form, should not apply to PERLS XVI Distributions. This conclusion is consistent with Example 5.4 in the Explanatory Memorandum to the bill, which concludes that the provision should not apply to an APRA regulated entity with an established practice of paying fully franked distributions on its ordinary shares and non-share equity interests, which issues non-share equity interests to meet capital regulatory requirements.

5.3.3.2 Non-Australian resident Holders

Distributions should not be subject to Australian non-resident withholding tax to the extent the Distributions are franked.

To the extent an unfranked or partially franked Distribution is paid to non-Australian resident Holders, withholding tax will be payable. The rate of withholding tax is 30% of the unfranked amount. However, non-Australian resident Holders may be entitled to a reduction in the rate of withholding tax if they are resident in a country which has a double taxation agreement with Australia.

5.3.4 Disposal of PERLS XVI

5.3.4.1 Disposal other than through Exchange

(a) Australian resident Holders

On the disposal (including on-market disposal, Redemption or Resale) of PERLS XVI, Australian resident Holders will be required to include any gain in their assessable income in the income tax year in which the disposal occurs. The gain will generally be equal to the capital proceeds from the disposal less the cost of acquisition for their PERLS XVI.

The capital proceeds will generally be the amount received on disposal of PERLS XVI. Where the disposal occurs by way of Redemption, the capital proceeds will be the A$100 Face Value received, unless the market value of the PERLS XVI at that time (determined assuming that the Redemption did not occur) is greater or less than the A$100 Face Value received. If all of the PERLS XVI are Redeemed on a Call Date then the ATO should accept that the market value of a PERLS XVI security is the A$100 Face Value (this is consistent with guidance issued by the ATO in Practical Compliance Guideline 2021/1).

As PERLS XVI are not “traditional securities”, qualifying Holders (individuals, certain trusts and complying superannuation funds) who have held their PERLS XVI for at least 12 months prior to disposal may be eligible for the CGT discount concession on any capital gain made on disposal.

The Federal Government has announced that “managed investment trusts” (“MITs”) and “attribution MITs” (“AMITs”) will not be entitled to the CGT discount at the trust level. This change was previously scheduled to apply from 1 July 2020, but has been delayed and will instead apply for income years commencing on or after the date that is three months from the date of Royal Assent of the enabling legislation. While there can be no certainty at this time in relation to when this change will come into effect, the Federal Government has indicated that it is committed to legislating this measure. Once this change comes into effect, MITs and AMITs that derive capital gains will continue to be able to distribute those amounts as capital gains that may be subject to the CGT discount in the hands of those beneficiaries who are entitled to the CGT discount.

Any loss on the disposal (including an on-market disposal) of PERLS XVI should give rise to a capital loss for Holders under the CGT rules in the Tax Act. Capital losses are generally only deductible against capital gains, but can be carried forward for use against capital gains realised in a later year.

If an Australian resident Holder realises a loss from an off-market disposal of PERLS XVI, they should seek their own advice as to whether a loss is allowed, having regard to their own circumstances.

(b) Non-Australian resident Holders

As PERLS XVI are not “traditional securities”, non-Australian resident Holders should generally not be taxable on any gain realised on disposal of their PERLS XVI (as PERLS XVI should generally not be “taxable Australian property”).

5.3.4.2 Disposal through Exchange

Under specific provisions of the Tax Act, any gain or loss that would arise on Exchange should be disregarded. The consequence of this is that the gain or loss is effectively deferred, with a Holder’s cost base in the Ordinary Shares acquired on Exchange reflecting the Holder’s cost base in their PERLS XVI. This outcome applies both to Australian resident Holders and non-Australian resident Holders.

5.3.5 Provision of TFN and/or ABN

The Taxation Administration Act 1953 (Cth) imposes withholding tax (currently at the rate of 47%) on the payment of distributions on certain types of investments such as the unfranked part (if any) of Distributions.

However, where a Holder has provided CBA with their TFN or, in certain circumstances, their ABN, or has notified CBA that they are exempt from providing this information, CBA is not required to withhold any amount on account of tax from payments.

A Holder is not required to provide their TFN or ABN to CBA.

5.3.6 GST

GST is not payable on the issue, receipt, disposal, Exchange, Redemption or Resale of PERLS XVI.

GST is not payable in relation to the payment of Distributions, or repayment of the Face Value, by CBA.

5.3.7 Stamp duty

No stamp duty should be payable on the issue, receipt, disposal, Exchange, Redemption or Resale of PERLS XVI.

5.4 US Persons

PERLS XVI have not been and will not be registered under the US Securities Act or the securities laws of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States. They may not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any

Terms of CommBank
PERLS XVI Capital Notes

Terms of CommBank PERLS XVI Capital Notes

The following are the Terms which apply to each PERLS XVI. Each Holder and any person claiming through or under a Holder is entitled to the benefit of, is bound by, and is taken to have notice of, these Terms, the Deed Poll and Prospectus.

1 Form of PERLS XVI and ranking

1.1 Form

- (a) PERLS XVI are perpetual, subordinated, unsecured notes of CBA, issued in registered form by entry in the Register.
- (b) Each entry in the Register evidences a separate and independent obligation which CBA owes to the relevant Holder, which that Holder may enforce without joining any other Holder or any previous Holder.
- (c) No certificates will be issued to Holders unless CBA is required to provide certificates by any applicable law or regulation.

1.2 Initial Face Value

Each PERLS XVI is issued fully paid with an initial Face Value of A$100.

1.3 CHESS

While PERLS XVI remain in CHESS, all dealings (including transfers and payments) in relation to PERLS XVI within CHESS, and the rights and obligations of each Holder, are subject to the rules and regulations of CHESS. To the extent there are inconsistencies between the rules and regulations of CHESS and the Terms, the Terms prevail.

1.4 ASX quotation

CBA must use all reasonable endeavours to procure that PERLS XVI are quoted on ASX on or as soon as possible after the Issue Date.

1.5 Payment and ranking in a winding up of CBA

- (a) If an order is made by a court of competent jurisdiction in Australia (other than an order successfully appealed or permanently stayed within 60 days), or an effective resolution is passed, for the winding up of CBA in Australia, CBA must redeem each PERLS XVI for its Face Value in accordance with this clause.
- (b) Holders do not have any right to prove in a winding up of CBA in respect of PERLS XVI, other than a right to prove in a winding up of CBA in Australia as permitted under clauses 1.5(c) and 1.5(d).
- (c) Each PERLS XVI ranks for payment in a winding up of CBA in Australia:
 - (i) after the claims of all holders of Senior Ranking Obligations;
 - (ii) equally with each Holder and holders of Equal Ranking Securities; and
 - (iii) ahead of holders of Junior Ranking Securities.

- (d) In order to give effect to the ranking specified in clause 1.5(c), in any winding up of CBA in Australia, the claims of Holders are limited to the extent necessary to ensure that:
 - (i) all holders of Senior Ranking Obligations receive payment in full before any payment is made to Holders; and
 - (ii) Holders of PERLS XVI and holders of any Equal Ranking Securities receive payments on a pro-rata basis.
- (e) Nothing in this clause limits the ability of CBA to, in its absolute discretion from time to time, issue further Senior Ranking Obligations or Equal Ranking Securities.
- (f) Holders may not exercise voting rights as a creditor in respect of PERLS XVI in a winding up of CBA to defeat the subordination in this clause.
- (g) PERLS XVI are perpetual and the Terms do not include events of default or any other provisions entitling the Holders to require that PERLS XVI be Redeemed other than under this clause 1.5. Holders do not have any right to apply for the winding up or administration of CBA, or to cause a receiver, or receiver and manager, to be appointed in respect of CBA, on the ground of CBA's failure to pay Distributions or for any other reason.
- (h) To avoid doubt but subject to clause 4.6, if a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event has occurred, Holders will rank for payment in a winding up of CBA in Australia as holders of the number of Ordinary Shares to which they became entitled under clauses 4.1 or 4.2.

1.6 No netting or set-off

PERLS XVI are not subject to netting and, without limitation:

- (a) CBA has no right to set-off any amounts owing by it to a Holder in respect of PERLS XVI against any claims owing by the Holder to it or to any member of the CBA Group; and
- (b) no Holder has any right to set-off any amounts, merge accounts or exercise any other rights the effect of which is or may be to reduce the amount payable by CBA in respect of PERLS XVI to the Holder.

1.7 Not deposit liabilities of CBA

- (a) PERLS XVI are not deposit liabilities or "protected accounts" of CBA for the purpose of the Banking Act.
- (b) No member of the CBA Group guarantees PERLS XVI and no member of the CBA Group, other than CBA, has any liability for PERLS XVI.

- (b) to subscribe for new securities of CBA or to participate in any bonus issues of securities of CBA; or
- (c) to otherwise participate in the profits or property of CBA, except by receiving payments as set out in these Terms.

2 Distributions

2.1 Distributions

- (a) Each PERLS XVI bears interest on its Face Value during each Distribution Period from (and including) the Issue Date to (but excluding) the Exchange Date or Redemption Date for that PERLS XVI, at the Distribution Rate.
- (b) Interest on each PERLS XVI is payable in arrears on each Distribution Payment Date.
- (c) Payment of interest on each PERLS XVI is subject to clauses 2.5, 2.6 and 9.

2.2 Distribution Rate determination

The Distribution Rate (expressed as a percentage per annum) for each Distribution Period is the rate calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Distribution Rate} = (\text{Market Rate} + \text{Margin}) \times (1 - \text{Tax Rate})$$

where:

Market Rate means:

- (a) subject to paragraph (b), the Bank Bill Swap Reference Rate administered by ASX Benchmarks Pty Limited (or any other person that takes on the administration of that rate) expressed as a percentage per annum for a term of 3 months as displayed on the "BBSW" page published through information vendors (or any page that replaces that page) on the first Business Day of the Distribution Period, provided that where PERLS XVI are Resold, Exchanged or Redeemed on a day which is not a scheduled Distribution Payment Date, and a Distribution is payable, then the Market Rate for the Distribution Period commencing on the Resale Date, Exchange Date or Redemption Date (as applicable) in respect of such PERLS XVI shall be the Market Rate for the Distribution Period preceding the relevant Resale Date, Exchange Date, or Redemption Date; and
- (b) if CBA determines that a Market Rate Disruption Event has occurred, then, CBA shall:
 - (i) use as the Market Rate such Alternative Market Rate as it may determine; and

- (ii) make such adjustments to the Terms as it determines to be reasonably necessary to calculate Distributions in accordance with such Alternative Market Rate; provided that APRA's prior written approval is obtained in respect of any such adjustment arising from an event that is specified in paragraph (iii) or (iv) of the definition of "Market Rate Disruption Event" in paragraph (d), and:

- (c) in making the above determinations in paragraph (b), CBA:
 - (i) shall act in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner;
 - (ii) may consult such sources of market practice as it considers appropriate; and
 - (iii) may otherwise make such determination in its discretion; and
- (d) for the purposes of this definition:
 - a Market Rate Disruption Event occurs when, in CBA's opinion, the Market Rate in paragraph (a) of the definition:
 - (i) is not published by 10:30am or such other time that CBA considers appropriate on that day;
 - (ii) is published but is affected by an obvious error;
 - (iii) has been discontinued or otherwise ceased to be calculated or administered; or
 - (iv) is no longer generally accepted in the Australian market as a reference rate appropriate to floating rate debt securities of a tenor and interest period comparable to that of PERLS XVI; and

Alternative Market Rate means a rate other than the rate described in paragraph (a) of this definition, that is, in CBA's opinion, generally accepted in the Australian market as the successor to the Market Rate, or if there is no such rate:

- (i) a reference rate that is, in CBA's opinion, appropriate to floating rate debt securities of a tenor and interest period most comparable to PERLS; or
- (ii) such other reference rate as CBA considers appropriate having regard to available comparable indices, provided that CBA reserves the discretion to incorporate an adjustment (which may be positive or negative) or a formula or methodology for calculating such an adjustment in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable in the circumstances, any economic prejudice or benefit to Holders as a result of the use of an Alternative Market Rate. APRA's prior written approval is required in respect of the Alternative Market Rate or any such adjustment arising from an event that is specified in paragraph (iii) or (iv) of the definition of "Market Rate Disruption Event" in this clause.

Margin means the rate (expressed as a percentage per annum) determined under the Bookbuild; and Tax Rate means the Australian corporate tax rate on the relevant Distribution Payment Date (expressed as a decimal).

2.3 Calculation of Distributions

The Distribution payable on each PERLS XVI for each Distribution Period is calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Distribution payable} = \frac{\text{Distribution Rate} \times \text{Face Value} \times \text{N}}{365}$$

where:

N means, in respect of a Distribution Period, the number of days in that Distribution Period.

2.4 Adjustment to calculation of Distributions if not fully franked

If any Distribution is not franked to 100% under Part 3-6 of the Tax Act, the Distribution will be calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Distribution payable} = \frac{D}{1 - [T \times (1 - F)]}$$

Where:

D means the Distribution calculated under clause 2.3;

T means the Australian corporate tax rate on the relevant Distribution Payment Date (expressed as a decimal); and

F means the franking percentage (as defined in Part 3-6 of the Tax Act) applicable to the franking account of CBA on the relevant Distribution Payment Date (expressed as a decimal).

2.5 Distribution payment conditions

The payment of any Distribution on any Distribution Payment Date is subject to:

- (a) CBA, in its absolute discretion, making the Distribution to Holders;
- (b) the payment of the Distribution not resulting in a breach of CBA's capital requirements under APRA's prudential standards as they are applied to the CBA Level 1 Group or the CBA Level 2 Group or both at the time of the payment;
- (c) the payment of the Distribution not resulting in CBA becoming, or being likely to become, Insolvent; and
- (d) APRA not otherwise objecting to the payment of the Distribution.

No Distribution will be paid on Exchange where Exchange occurs due to a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event.

CBA must notify ASX at least five Business Days before the relevant Record Date (or, if later, as soon as it decides not to make the Distribution) if payment of any Distribution will not be made because of this clause.

2.6 Distributions are discretionary and non-cumulative

Distributions are discretionary and non-cumulative. If payment of any Distribution is not made for any reason, CBA has no liability to pay that unpaid Distribution.

2.7 Dividend and capital restrictions in the event of non-payment

- (a) Subject to clause 2.7(b), if any Distribution is not paid to Holders in full on the relevant Distribution Payment Date, then CBA must not, without the approval of a Special Resolution:
 - (i) declare or determine a dividend; or
 - (ii) return any capital or undertake any buy-backs or repurchases, (together Restricted Actions) in relation to any Ordinary Shares, unless the amount of any unpaid Distribution is paid in full within five Business Days of that date. If, on a subsequent Distribution Payment Date, a Distribution is paid in full, or if all PERLS XVI have been Exchanged, Redeemed or otherwise terminated, then these restrictions cease to apply.
- (b) Clause 2.7(a) does not apply to:
 - (i) Restricted Actions which CBA is legally obliged to pay or complete at the time any Distribution is not paid in full to Holders on a relevant Distribution Payment Date; or
 - (ii) Restricted Actions in connection with:
 - (A) any employment contract, employee share scheme, employee rights or option plan, or similar arrangement with, or for the benefit of, any one or more employees, officers, directors or consultants of CBA or its Related Bodies Corporate; or
 - (B) CBA or any of its Related Bodies Corporate purchasing Ordinary Shares in connection with transactions for the account of customers of CBA or customers of any of its Related Bodies Corporate.

2.8 Notification of Distribution Rate, Distribution payable and other items

- (a) CBA must notify ASX of the Distribution Rate, amount of Distribution payable and Distribution Payment Date for each Distribution Period.
- (b) CBA must give notice under this clause as soon as practicable after it makes its calculations and by no later than the fourth Business Day of the relevant Distribution Period.
- (c) CBA may amend its calculation or determination of any date, rate or amount (or make appropriate alternative arrangements by way of adjustment) including as a result of the extension or reduction of the Distribution Period or calculation period without prior notice but must notify ASX promptly after doing so.

2.9 Determination final

CBA's determination of all dates, rates and amounts under these Terms is, in the absence of wilful default, bad faith or manifest error, final and binding on CBA, the Registry and each Holder.

2.10 Calculations

For the purposes of any calculations required under these Terms:

- (a) all percentages resulting from the calculations must be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point (with 0.000005% being rounded up to 0.00001%);
- (b) all figures must be rounded to four decimal places (with 0.00005 being rounded up to 0.0001); and
- (c) all amounts that are due and payable must be rounded to the nearest one Australian cent (with one half of an Australian cent being rounded up to one Australian cent).

3 Mandatory Exchange

3.1 Mandatory Exchange

Subject to clauses 4.1, 4.2, 4.6 and 5, CBA must Exchange all (but not some) PERLS XVI on issue on the date that is the earlier of:

- (a) the Scheduled Mandatory Exchange Date, being the first Business Day falling at least 2 years after the last Call Date; and
- (b) the first Distribution Payment Date after the Scheduled Mandatory Exchange Date,

(each a Mandatory Exchange Date) on which the Mandatory Exchange Conditions are satisfied.

3.2 Mandatory Exchange Conditions

- (a) The Mandatory Exchange Conditions for each Mandatory Exchange Date are:
 - (i) the VWAP on the 25th Business Day on which trading in Ordinary Shares took place immediately preceding (but not including) the Mandatory Exchange Date is greater than 56% of the Issue Date VWAP (First Mandatory Exchange Condition);
 - (ii) the VWAP during the period of 20 Business Days on which trading in Ordinary Shares took place immediately preceding (but not including) the Mandatory Exchange Date is greater than 50.51% of the Issue Date VWAP (Second Mandatory Exchange Condition); and
 - (iii) Ordinary Shares have not been Delisted as at the Mandatory Exchange Date (Third Mandatory Exchange Condition).
- (b) If the First Mandatory Exchange Condition is not satisfied, CBA will announce to ASX between the 25th and the 21st Business Day before the Mandatory Exchange Date that Exchange will not proceed on the Mandatory Exchange Date.
- (c) If the Second Mandatory Exchange Condition or Third Mandatory Exchange Condition is not satisfied, CBA will notify Holders on or as soon as practicable after the Mandatory Exchange Date that Exchange did not occur.

4 Early Exchange

4.1 Capital Trigger Event

- (a) A Capital Trigger Event occurs when:
 - (i) CBA determines; or
 - (ii) APRA notifies CBA in writing that it believes, that either or both the CBA Level 1 Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio or CBA Level 2 Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio is equal to or less than 5.125%. CBA must immediately notify APRA in writing if it makes a determination under clause 4.1(a)(i).
- (b) If a Capital Trigger Event occurs, CBA must Exchange such number of PERLS XVI (or, if it so determines, such percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI) as is sufficient (taking into account any exchange, conversion or write down of Relevant Securities as referred to in paragraph (c) below) to return either or both the CBA Level 1 Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio or CBA Level 2 Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio, as the case may be, to above 5.125%.

- (c) In determining the number of PERLS XVI, or percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI, which must be Exchanged in accordance with this clause, CBA will:
- (i) firstly, exchange, convert or write down the face value of any Relevant Securities whose terms require or permit, or are taken by law to require or permit, them to be exchanged, converted or written down before Exchange of PERLS XVI; and
 - (ii) secondly, if exchange, conversion or write down of those Relevant Securities is not sufficient, Exchange (in the case of PERLS XVI) or exchange, convert or write down (in the case of any other Relevant Securities) on a pro-rata basis or in a manner that is otherwise, in the opinion of CBA, fair and reasonable, PERLS XVI and any Relevant Securities whose terms require or permit, or are taken by law to require or permit, them to be Exchanged, converted or written down in that manner (subject to such adjustment as CBA may determine to take into account the effect on marketable parcels and whole numbers of Ordinary Shares and any PERLS XVI or other Relevant Securities remaining on issue), but such determination will not impede the immediate Exchange of the relevant number of PERLS XVI or percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI (as the case may be).

- (d) For the purposes of clauses 4.1(b) and 4.1(c), where the specified currency of the face value of Relevant Securities and/or PERLS XVI is not the same, CBA may treat them as if converted into a single currency of CBA's choice at such rate of exchange as CBA in good faith considers reasonable.

- (e) If a Capital Trigger Event occurs:
- (i) the relevant number of PERLS XVI, or percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI, must be Exchanged immediately upon occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event in accordance with clauses 4.5 and 7 and the Exchange will be irrevocable;
 - (ii) CBA must give notice as soon as practicable that Exchange has occurred to ASX and the Holders;
 - (iii) the notice must specify the date on which the Capital Trigger Event occurred; and
 - (iv) the notice must specify the details of the Exchange process, including any details which were taken into account in relation to the effect on marketable parcels and whole numbers of Ordinary Shares, and the impact on any PERLS XVI remaining on issue.

Failure to undertake any of the steps in clauses 4.1(e)(ii) to (iv) does not prevent, invalidate or otherwise impede Exchange.

4.2 Non-Viability Trigger Event

- (a) A Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs when APRA notifies CBA in writing that it believes:
- (i) Exchange of all or some PERLS XVI, or exchange, conversion or write down of capital instruments of the CBA Group, is necessary because, without it, CBA would become non-viable; or
 - (ii) a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, is necessary because, without it, CBA would become non-viable.

APRA may specify an aggregate face value of capital instruments which must be Exchanged, converted or written down (as applicable).

- (b) If a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs, CBA must Exchange such number of PERLS XVI (or, if it so determines, such percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI) as is equal (taking into account any exchange, conversion or write down of Relevant Securities as referred to in paragraph (c) below) to the aggregate face value of capital instruments which APRA has notified CBA must be Exchanged, converted or written down (or, if APRA has not so notified CBA, such number or, if CBA so determines, such percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI, as is necessary to satisfy APRA that CBA will no longer be non-viable). If a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs under clause 4.2(a)(ii), CBA must Exchange all PERLS XVI.

- (c) In determining the number of PERLS XVI, or percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI, which must be Exchanged in accordance with this clause, CBA will:
- (i) firstly, exchange, convert or write down the face value of any Relevant Securities whose terms require or permit, or are taken by law to require or permit, them to be exchanged, converted or written down before Exchange of PERLS XVI; and
 - (ii) secondly, if exchange, conversion or write down of those securities is not sufficient, Exchange (in the case of PERLS XVI) or exchange, convert or write down (in the case of any other Relevant Securities), on a pro-rata basis or in a manner that is otherwise, in the opinion of CBA, fair and reasonable, PERLS XVI and any Relevant Securities whose terms require or permit, or are taken by law to require or permit, them to be Exchanged, converted or written down in that manner (subject to such adjustments as CBA may determine to take into account the effect on marketable parcels and whole numbers of Ordinary Shares and any PERLS XVI or other Relevant Securities remaining on issue), but such determination will not impede the immediate Exchange of the relevant number of PERLS XVI or percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI (as the case may be).

- (d) For the purposes of clauses 4.2(b) and 4.2(c), where the specified currency of the face value of Relevant Securities and/or PERLS XVI is not the same, CBA may treat them as if converted into a single currency of CBA's choice at such rate of exchange as CBA in good faith considers reasonable.
- (e) If a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs:
- (i) the relevant number of PERLS XVI, or percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI, must be Exchanged immediately upon occurrence of the Non-Viability Trigger Event in accordance with clauses 4.5 and 7 and the Exchange will be irrevocable;
 - (ii) CBA must give notice as soon as practicable that Exchange has occurred to ASX and the Holders;
 - (iii) the notice must specify the date on which the Non-Viability Trigger Event occurred; and
 - (iv) the notice must specify the details of the Exchange process, including any details which were taken into account in relation to the effect on marketable parcels and whole numbers of Ordinary Shares, and the impact on any PERLS XVI remaining on issue.

Failure to undertake any of the steps in clauses 4.2(e)(ii) to (iv) does not prevent, invalidate or otherwise impede Exchange.

4.3 Mandatory Exchange Conditions do not apply to Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event

For the avoidance of doubt, the Mandatory Exchange Conditions do not apply to Exchange as a result of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurring.

4.4 Priority of Early Exchange Obligations

An Exchange required because of a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event takes place notwithstanding anything in clause 3.

4.5 Automatic Exchange upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event

If a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event has occurred and all or some PERLS XVI (or percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI) are required to be Exchanged in accordance with clauses 4.1 or 4.2, then:

- (a) Exchange of the relevant PERLS XVI or percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI will occur in accordance with clause 7 immediately upon the date of occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event; and
- (b) the entry of the corresponding PERLS XVI in each relevant Holder's holding in the Register will constitute an entitlement of that Holder to the relevant number of Ordinary Shares (and, if applicable, also to any remaining balance of PERLS XVI or remaining percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI), and CBA will recognise the Holder as having been issued the relevant Ordinary Shares for all purposes, in each case without the need for any further act or step by CBA, the Holder or any other person (and CBA will, as soon as possible thereafter and without delay on the part of CBA, take any appropriate procedural steps to record such Exchange, including updating the Register and the Ordinary Share register and seek quotation of Ordinary Shares issued on Exchange).

For the avoidance of doubt:

- (c) nothing in this clause allows a payment to be made to a Holder upon Exchange; and
- (d) Exchange under this clause takes priority over a notice for Redemption issued under clauses 5.1, 5.2, 5.3 or 5.4 and any notice of Redemption outstanding at the time a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs will be automatically revoked and of no effect.

4.6 No further rights if Exchange cannot occur

If, for any reason, Exchange of any PERLS XVI (or a percentage of the Face Value of any PERLS XVI) required to be Exchanged under clauses 4.1 or 4.2 fails to take effect under clauses 4.5(a) and 4.5(b) and CBA has not otherwise issued the Ordinary Shares required to be issued in respect of such Exchange within five Business Days after the date of the occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, then the relevant Holders' rights (including to payment of the Face Value and Distributions, and the right to receive Ordinary Shares) in relation to such PERLS XVI or percentage of the Face Value of PERLS XVI are immediately and irrevocably terminated and such termination will be taken to have occurred immediately on the date of the occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event. CBA must give notice as soon as practicable that such termination has occurred to the Holders and such notice must be announced on ASX, and the notice must specify the date on which the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurred.

4.7 Change of Control Event

- (a) A Change of Control Event occurs when:
 - (i) a takeover bid is made for Ordinary Shares (A) acceptance of which is recommended by the Board and which is or has become unconditional or (B) which is or has become unconditional and the voting power of the offer or in CBA is or has become greater than 50%; or

- (ii) in respect of a scheme of arrangement under Part 5.1 of the Corporations Act which would result (if implemented) in a person having voting power in more than 50% of CBA, the earlier of (A) a court approving the scheme, and (B) the Board determining that such event should be treated as a Change of Control Event for the purposes of this clause,
- provided that clause 4.7(a)(ii) does not include a scheme of arrangement which would result in a NOHC Event.
- (b) If a Change of Control Event occurs, then:
- (i) CBA must Exchange all (but not some) PERLS XVI;
 - (ii) CBA must give notice as soon as practicable and in any event within 10 Business Days after becoming aware of that event occurring to ASX and the Holders;
 - (iii) the notice must specify a date on which it is proposed Exchange will occur (proposed Exchange Date) being:
 - (1) in the case of a Change of Control Event under clause 4.7(a)(i), no later than the Business Day prior to the then announced closing date of the relevant takeover bid;
 - (2) in the case of a Change of Control Event under clause 4.7(a)(ii)(A), a date no later than the record date for participation in the relevant scheme of arrangement; or
 - (3) in the case of a Change of Control Event under clause 4.7(a)(ii)(B), a date no later than 25 Business Days following the date the notice is given, or the record date for participation in the relevant scheme of arrangement, whichever is earlier; and
 - (iv) the notice must specify the details of the Exchange process including any details to take into account the effect on marketable parcels and whole numbers of Ordinary Shares; and
 - (v) on the proposed Exchange Date, all PERLS XVI will Exchange in accordance with clause 7.
- (c) The Second Mandatory Exchange Condition and Third Mandatory Exchange Condition apply if a Change of Control Event occurs as though the proposed Exchange Date were a Mandatory Exchange Date for the purposes of clause 4 (except that in the case of a Change of Control Event, the Second Mandatory Exchange Condition will apply as if it referred to 20.20% of the Issue Date VWAP).
- (d) If either the Second Mandatory Exchange Condition or Third Mandatory Exchange Condition is not satisfied on the proposed Exchange Date:
- (i) PERLS XVI must Exchange on the next Distribution Payment Date on which the Second Mandatory Exchange Condition and Third Mandatory Exchange Condition are satisfied; and
 - (ii) CBA will notify Holders as soon as practicable after the proposed Exchange Date that Exchange did not occur.

4.8 No Exchange at the option of the Holders

Holders do not have a right to request Exchange of their PERLS XVI at any time.

5 Early Redemption

5.1 Early Redemption at the option of CBA on a Call Date

CBA may at its option Redeem all or some PERLS XVI on a Call Date for their Face Value.

However, CBA may only Redeem under this clause if CBA has given notice of its election to do so at least 10 Business Days (and no more than 60 Business Days) before the Call Date on which Redemption is to occur to ASX and the Holders.

If only some (but not all) PERLS XVI are to be Redeemed under this clause, those PERLS XVI to be Redeemed will be specified in the notice and selected:

- (a) in a manner that is, in the opinion of CBA, fair and reasonable; and
- (b) in compliance with any applicable law, directive or requirement of ASX.

5.2 Early Redemption for inability to frank Distributions

If there is a material risk that as a result of any change in, or amendment to, the laws of Australia, or their application or official or judicial interpretation or administration (including any announcement of a prospective change or amendment which has been or will be introduced), which change or amendment was not expected by CBA as at the Issue Date and has or is expected to become effective on or after the Issue Date, any Distribution would not be a frankable distribution within the meaning of Division 202 of the Tax Act, CBA may Redeem all (but not some) PERLS XVI for their Face Value.

However, CBA may only Redeem under this clause if:

- (a) CBA has given notice of its election to do so at least 10 Business Days (and no more than 60 Business Days) before the proposed Redemption Date to ASX and the Holders;

- (b) the proposed Redemption Date is a Distribution Payment Date; and
- (c) the notice of Redemption is not given earlier than 60 Business Days before the Distribution Payment Date occurring immediately before the earliest date on which a Distribution would not be a frankable Distribution.

5.3 Early Redemption for other taxation reasons

If CBA receives an opinion from reputable legal counsel or other tax adviser in Australia, experienced in such matters, to the effect that there is a material risk that as a result of a change in, or amendment to, the laws of Australia, or their application or official or judicial interpretation or administration (including any announcement of a prospective change or amendment which has been or will be introduced), which change or amendment was not expected by CBA at the Issue Date and becomes or is expected to become effective on or after the Issue Date:

- (a) CBA would be required to pay an increased amount under clause 9.6; or
- (b) CBA would be exposed to a more than de minimis adverse tax consequence in relation to PERLS XVI other than a tax consequence that CBA expected as at the Issue Date,

CBA may Redeem all (but not some) PERLS XVI for their Face Value.

However, CBA may only Redeem under this clause if:

- (c) CBA has given notice of its election to do so at least 10 Business Days (and no more than 60 Business Days) before the proposed Redemption Date to ASX and the Holders;
- (d) the proposed Redemption Date is a Distribution Payment Date; and
- (e) the notice of Redemption is not given earlier than 60 Business Days before the Distribution Payment Date occurring immediately before the earliest date on which CBA would be subject to the adverse tax consequence.

5.4 Early redemption for regulatory reasons

If, at any time after the Issue Date, CBA determines that as a result of a change in, or amendment to, the laws of Australia or APRA's prudential standards or guidelines, or in their application or official or judicial interpretation or administration (including any announcement of a prospective change or amendment which has been or will be introduced), other than as a result of a change expected by CBA as at the Issue Date;

- (a) all, some or a proportion of all or some PERLS XVI are not or will not be treated as Tier 1 Capital of the CBA Group under APRA's prudential standards (as amended from time to time);

- (b) additional requirements would be imposed on CBA in relation to or in connection with PERLS XVI which CBA determines in its absolute discretion might have a material adverse effect on CBA; or
- (c) to have PERLS XVI outstanding would be unlawful or impractical or that CBA would be exposed to a more than a de minimis increase in its costs in connection with those PERLS XVI,

CBA may Redeem all (but not some) PERLS XVI for their Face Value.

However, CBA may only Redeem under this clause if:

- (d) CBA has given notice of its election to do so at least 10 Business Days (and no more than 60 Business Days) before the proposed Redemption Date to ASX and the Holders;
- (e) the proposed Redemption Date is a Distribution Payment Date; and
- (f) the notice of Redemption is not given earlier than 60 Business Days before the Distribution Payment Date occurring immediately before the earliest date on which (as applicable):
 - (i) all, some or a proportion of all or some PERLS XVI will cease to be treated as Tier 1 Capital;
 - (ii) additional requirements will be imposed on CBA; or
 - (iii) to have PERLS XVI outstanding will be unlawful or impractical or CBA will be exposed to a more than a de minimis increase in its costs.

5.5 APRA approval to Redeem

CBA may only Redeem under this clause 5 if:

- (a) either:
 - (i) before or concurrently with Redemption, CBA replaces PERLS XVI with a capital instrument which is of the same or better quality (for the purposes of APRA's prudential standards as they are applied to the CBA Group at the relevant time) than PERLS XVI and the replacement of PERLS XVI is done under conditions that are sustainable for the income capacity of CBA; or
 - (ii) CBA obtains confirmation from APRA that APRA is satisfied, having regard to the capital position of the CBA Level 1 Group and CBA Level 2 Group, that CBA does not have to replace PERLS XVI; and
- (b) APRA has given its prior written approval to the Redemption. Approval is at the discretion of APRA and may or may not be given.

5.6 Final Distribution

For the avoidance of doubt, Redemption may occur even if CBA, in its absolute discretion, does not make the Distribution for the final Distribution Period.

5.7 No Redemption at the option of the Holders

Holders do not have a right to request Redemption of their PERLS XVI at any time.

5.8 Effect of notice of Redemption

Any notice of Redemption given under this clause 5 is irrevocable and CBA must (subject to clauses 1.5, 4.5(d) and 9.3) Redeem PERLS XVI on the Redemption Date specified in that notice.

5.9 Redemption mechanics

On the Redemption Date, the only right a Holder will have in respect of PERLS XVI will be to be paid the Face Value payable in accordance with these Terms and any Distribution CBA has determined is payable on that date. Upon the Face Value being paid (or taken to be paid in accordance with clause 9), all other rights conferred, or restrictions imposed, by PERLS XVI will no longer have effect and the PERLS XVI will be cancelled.

6 Resale on a Call Date

- (a) CBA may elect that Resale occur in relation to all or some PERLS XVI by giving a Resale Notice at least 10 Business Days (and no more than 60 Business Days) before a Call Date to ASX and the Holders.

If only some (but not all) PERLS XVI are to be Resold under this clause, the number of PERLS XVI to be Resold will be specified in the notice and selected:

- (i) in a manner that is, in the opinion of CBA, fair and reasonable; and
- (ii) in compliance with any applicable law, directive or requirement of ASX.

- (b) If CBA issues a Resale Notice:

- (i) each Holder is taken irrevocably to offer to sell the relevant number of their PERLS XVI to the Purchaser on the Call Date specified in the applicable Resale Notice (Resale Date) for a cash amount per PERLS XVI equal to the Face Value (and to have appointed CBA as its agent and attorney to do and execute all things and documents which CBA considers may be necessary or desirable in connection with that offer and any resulting sale);
- (ii) subject to payment by the Purchaser of the Face Value to Holders, all right, title and interest in the relevant number of PERLS XVI will be transferred from the Holders to the Purchaser on the Resale Date; and
- (iii) if the Purchaser does not pay the Face Value to the relevant Holders on the Resale Date, the relevant number of PERLS XVI will not be transferred to the Purchaser and a Holder has no claim on CBA as a result of that non-payment.

- (c) Clause 9 will apply to payments by the Purchaser as if the Purchaser was CBA. If any payment to a particular Holder is not made or treated as made on the Resale Date because of any error by or on behalf of the Purchaser, the relevant PERLS XVI of that Holder will not be transferred until payment is made but the transfer of all other relevant PERLS will not be affected by the failure.

7 General provisions applicable to Exchange

7.1 Exchange

On the Exchange Date, subject to clauses 4.6 and 7.10, the following will apply:

- (a) CBA will allot and issue the Exchange Number of Ordinary Shares for each PERLS XVI held by the Holder. The Exchange Number is calculated according to the following formula, and subject always to the Exchange Number being no greater than the Maximum Exchange Number:

$$\text{Exchange Number for each PERLS XVI} = \frac{\text{Face Value}}{0.99 \times \text{VWAP}}$$

where:

VWAP (expressed in dollars and cents) means the VWAP during the VWAP Period.

Maximum Exchange Number means a number calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Maximum Exchange Number} = \frac{\text{Face Value}}{\text{Relevant Percentage} \times \text{Issue Date VWAP}}$$

where:

Relevant Percentage means:

- (i) if Exchange is occurring on a Mandatory Exchange Date, 0.50; and
 - (ii) if Exchange is occurring at any other time, 0.20.
- (b) Each Holder's rights (including to payment of Distributions, other than the Distribution, if any, payable on an Exchange Date where the Exchange is not as a result of a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event) in relation to each PERLS XVI that is being Exchanged will be immediately and irrevocably terminated for an amount equal to the Face Value and CBA will apply the Face Value of each PERLS XVI by way of payment for the subscription for the Ordinary Shares to be allotted and issued under clause 7.1(a). Each Holder is taken to have irrevocably directed that any amount payable under this clause 7.1 is to be applied as provided for in this clause and no Holder has any right to payment in any other way.

- (c) If the total number of additional Ordinary Shares to be allotted and issued in respect of a Holder's aggregate holding of PERLS XVI includes a fraction of an Ordinary Share, that fraction of an Ordinary Share will be disregarded.

7.2 Adjustments to VWAP generally

For the purposes of calculating VWAP under clause 7.1:

- (a) where, on some or all of the Business Days in the relevant VWAP Period, Ordinary Shares have been quoted on ASX as cum dividend or cum any other distribution or entitlement and PERLS XVI will be Exchanged for Ordinary Shares after that date and those Ordinary Shares will no longer carry that dividend or any other distribution or entitlement, then the VWAP on the Business Days on which those Ordinary Shares have been quoted cum dividend or cum any other distribution or entitlement will be reduced by an amount (Cum Value) equal to:
- (i) in the case of a dividend or other distribution, the amount of that dividend or other distribution;
 - (ii) in the case of any other entitlement that is not a dividend or other distribution under clause 7.2(a)(i) which is traded on ASX on any of those Business Days, the volume weighted average price of all such entitlements sold on ASX during the VWAP Period on the Business Days on which those entitlements were traded (excluding trades of the kind that would be excluded in determining VWAP under the definition of that term); or
 - (iii) in the case of any other entitlement which is not traded on ASX during the VWAP Period, the value of the entitlement as reasonably determined by the Board; and
- (b) where, on some or all of the Business Days in the VWAP Period, Ordinary Shares have been quoted as ex dividend or ex any other distribution or entitlement, and PERLS XVI will be Exchanged for Ordinary Shares which would be entitled to receive the relevant dividend, distribution or entitlement, the VWAP on the Business Days on which those Ordinary Shares have been quoted ex dividend or ex any other distribution or entitlement will be increased by the Cum Value.

7.3 Adjustments to VWAP for capital reconstruction

- (a) Where during the relevant VWAP Period there is a change to the number of Ordinary Shares on issue because the Ordinary Shares are reconstructed, consolidated, divided or reclassified (not involving any payment or other compensation to or by the holders of Ordinary Shares) (Reclassification) into a lesser or greater number, the daily VWAP for each day in the VWAP Period which falls before the date on which trading in Ordinary Shares is conducted on a post Reclassification basis will be adjusted by multiplying the applicable VWAP by the following formula:

$$\frac{A}{B}$$

where:

A means the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares immediately before the Reclassification; and

B means the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares immediately after the Reclassification.

- (b) Any adjustment made by CBA in accordance with clause 7.3(a) will be effective and binding on Holders under these Terms and these Terms will be construed accordingly.
- (c) For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this clause allows a cash payment or other distribution to be made to or by a Holder as part of a Reclassification or as a result of a Reclassification.

7.4 Adjustments to Issue Date VWAP generally

For the purposes of determining the Issue Date VWAP under clause 7.1, adjustments will be made in accordance with clauses 7.2 and 7.3 during the VWAP Period for the Issue Date VWAP. On and from the Issue Date, adjustments to the Issue Date VWAP:

- (a) may be made by CBA in accordance with clauses 7.5 to 7.7 (inclusive);
- (b) if so made, will correspondingly affect the application of the Mandatory Exchange Conditions and cause an adjustment to the Maximum Exchange Number; and
- (c) if so made, will be effective and binding on Holders under these Terms and these Terms will be construed accordingly.

7.5 Adjustments to Issue Date VWAP for bonus issues

- (a) Subject to clauses 7.5(b) and 7.5(c), if CBA makes a pro-rata bonus issue of Ordinary Shares to holders of Ordinary Shares generally, the Issue Date VWAP will be adjusted immediately in accordance with the following formula:

$$V = V_0 \times RD / (RD + RN)$$

where:

V means the Issue Date VWAP applying immediately after the application of this formula;

- Vo means the Issue Date VWAP applying immediately prior to the application of this formula;
- RD means the number of Ordinary Shares on issue immediately prior to the allotment of new Ordinary Shares pursuant to the bonus issue; and
- RN means the number of Ordinary Shares issued pursuant to the bonus issue.

- (b) Clause 7.5(a) does not apply to Ordinary Shares issued as part of a bonus share plan, employee or executive share plan, executive option plan, share top up plan, share purchase plan or a dividend reinvestment plan or other issue involving any payment or other compensation to or by the holders of Ordinary Shares.
- (c) For the purposes of this clause 7.5, an issue will be regarded as a bonus issue notwithstanding that CBA does not make offers to some or all holders of Ordinary Shares with registered addresses outside Australia (or to whom an offer is otherwise subject to foreign securities laws), provided that in so doing CBA is not in contravention of ASX Listing Rules.

7.6 Adjustments to Issue Date VWAP for capital reconstruction

If at any time after the Issue Date there is a change to the number of Ordinary Shares on issue because of a Reclassification into a lesser or greater number, the Issue Date VWAP will be adjusted by multiplying the Issue Date VWAP applicable on the Business Day immediately before the date of any such Reclassification by the following formula:

$$\frac{A}{B}$$

where:

A means the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares on issue immediately before the Reclassification; and

B means the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares on issue immediately after the Reclassification.

7.7 No adjustment to Issue Date VWAP in certain circumstances

Despite the provisions of clauses 7.5 and 7.6, no adjustment will be made to the Issue Date VWAP where any such adjustment (rounded if applicable) would be less than one percent of the Issue Date VWAP then in effect.

7.8 Announcement of adjustments to Issue Date VWAP

CBA will notify any adjustment to the Issue Date VWAP under this clause 7 to ASX and the Holders within 10 Business Days of CBA determining the adjustment (or such shorter period as is required by ASX Listing Rules) and the adjustment will be final and binding.

7.9 Status and listing of Ordinary Shares

- (a) Ordinary Shares issued or arising from Exchange will rank equally with all other fully paid Ordinary Shares provided that the rights attaching to the Ordinary Shares issued or arising from Exchange do not take effect until 5.00pm (Sydney time) on the Exchange Date (or such other time required by APRA).
- (b) CBA will use all reasonable endeavours to list the Ordinary Shares issued on Exchange of PERLS XVI on ASX.
- (c) Holders acknowledge that any ASX trades in PERLS XVI that have not settled on the Exchange Date will continue to settle in accordance with the normal ASX settlement process, although the seller will be treated as having delivered and the buyer will be treated as having acquired, the number of Ordinary Shares into which PERLS XVI have been Exchanged.

7.10 Exchange where the Holder does not wish to receive Ordinary Shares or is an Ineligible Holder

If PERLS XVI (or a percentage of the Face Value of each PERLS XVI) of a Holder are required to be Exchanged and:

- (a) the Holder has notified CBA that it does not wish to receive Ordinary Shares as a result of Exchange, which notice may be given at any time on or after the Issue Date and prior to the Exchange Date;
- (b) the Holder is an Ineligible Holder; or
- (c) CBA has not received (for any reason whether or not due to the fault of that Holder) any information required by it in accordance with the Terms so as to impede CBA issuing the Ordinary Shares to a Holder on the Exchange Date, then, on the Exchange Date, the Holder's rights (including to payment of Distributions) in relation to each such PERLS XVI being Exchanged are immediately and irrevocably terminated and CBA will issue the Exchange Number of Ordinary Shares to a Nominee for no additional consideration to hold on trust for sale for the benefit of the relevant Holder (unless, because the Holder is an Ineligible Holder, the Nominee is or would be deemed to be an Ineligible Holder, in which case such issue shall occur as soon as practicable after the Nominee ceases to be or would not be (as the case may be) an Ineligible Holder). At the first opportunity to sell the Ordinary Shares, the Nominee will arrange for their sale and pay the proceeds less selling costs and any withholding or deduction required or permitted pursuant to clause 9.6 to the relevant Holder subject to and in accordance with the provisions of the Deed Poll.

If Exchange is occurring because of the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event and the Exchange fails to take effect and CBA has not otherwise issued Ordinary Shares to the Nominee within five Business Days after the date of the occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, then Holders' rights will be immediately and irrevocably terminated under clause 4.6.

7.11 Final Distribution

For the avoidance of doubt, Exchange may occur even if CBA, in its absolute discretion, does not make the Distribution for the final Distribution Period.

7.12 No Exchange after winding up commences

If before the Exchange Date an order is made by a court, or an effective resolution is passed, for the winding up of CBA in Australia, then Exchange will not occur and clause 1.5 will apply, except where Exchange is required for a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event (in which case such Exchange shall occur (subject to clause 4.6) in accordance with clauses 4.1 or 4.2 (as applicable) and clause 4.5).

7.13 Exchange of a percentage of Face Value

If under these Terms it is necessary to Exchange a percentage of the Face Value, this clause 7 will apply to the Exchange as if references to the Face Value were references to the relevant percentage of the Face Value to be Exchanged.

8 Title and transfer of PERLS XVI

8.1 Effect of entries in Register

Each entry in the Register of a person as a Holder constitutes:

- (a) conclusive evidence of that person's:
 - (i) absolute ownership of that PERLS XVI;
 - (ii) entitlement to the other benefits given to Holders under these Terms and the Deed Poll in respect of PERLS XVI; and
- (b) an undertaking by CBA to pay Distributions and any other amount in accordance with these Terms, subject to correction of the Register for fraud or error.

8.2 Non-recognition of interests

Except as required by law, CBA and the Registry must treat the person whose name is entered in the Register as a Holder as the absolute owner of that PERLS XVI.

This clause applies despite any notice of ownership, trust or interest in that PERLS XVI. No recognition of any trust, encumbrance or interest shall be entered on the Register.

8.3 Joint holders

Where two or more persons are entered in the Register as joint Holders, they are taken to hold that PERLS XVI as joint tenants with rights of survivorship and subject to the terms of the Deed Poll but the Registry is not bound to register more than four persons as joint Holders of any PERLS XVI.

8.4 Transfers

- (a) A Holder may transfer PERLS XVI:
 - (i) while PERLS XVI are registered with CHESSE, in accordance with the rules and regulations of CHESSE; or
 - (ii) at any other time:
 - (A) by a proper transfer under any other applicable computerised or electronic system recognised by the Corporations Act; or
 - (B) by any proper or sufficient instrument of transfer of marketable securities under applicable law, provided such instrument is delivered to the Registry with any evidence the Registry reasonably requires to prove title to or the right to transfer PERLS XVI.
- (b) Title to PERLS XVI passes when details of the transfer are entered in the Register.
- (c) PERLS XVI may be transferred in whole but not in part.
- (d) CBA must comply with all Applicable Regulations and any other relevant obligations imposed on it in relation to the transfer of PERLS XVI.
- (e) CBA must not charge any fee on the transfer of PERLS XVI.
- (f) The Holder is responsible for any stamp duty or other similar taxes which are payable in any jurisdiction in connection with a transfer, assignment or other dealing with PERLS XVI.
- (g) Upon registration and entry of the transferee in the Register, the transferor ceases to be entitled to future benefits under these Terms and the Deed Poll in respect of the transferred PERLS XVI.
- (h) Subject to Applicable Regulations, CBA may determine that transfers of some or all PERLS XVI will not be registered during any period reasonably specified by it prior to the Exchange Date, Redemption Date or Resale Date of such PERLS XVI.

8.5 Refusal to register

CBA may only refuse to register a transfer of PERLS XVI if permitted by, or if such registration would contravene or is forbidden by, Applicable Regulations or the Terms.

If CBA refuses to register a transfer, CBA must give the lodging party notice of the refusal and the reasons for it within five Business Days after the date on which the transfer was delivered to the Registry.

8.6 Transmission

A person becoming entitled to PERLS XVI as a consequence of the death, bankruptcy, liquidation or a winding-up of a Holder or of a vesting order by a court or other body with power to make the order, or a person administering the estate of a Holder, may, upon providing evidence as to that entitlement or status, and if CBA so requires an indemnity in relation to the correctness of such evidence, as CBA considers sufficient, become registered as the Holder of those PERLS XVI.

9 Payments

9.1 Payments to registered Holder

- (a) Payment of Distributions will be made to the person registered at 7.00pm on the Record Date as the Holder.
- (b) Payment of any other amount in accordance with these Terms will be made to the person registered as the Holder on the relevant date for payment.
- (c) A payment to any one of joint Holders will discharge CBA's liability in respect of the payment.

9.2 Obligations subject to law

All obligations of CBA to make any payments and/or issue any Ordinary Shares are subject to all applicable laws.

9.3 Payments on Business Days

If any payment:

- (a) is due on a day which is not a Business Day, then the due date for payment will be the next Business Day; or
- (b) is to be made to an account on a Business Day on which banks are not open for general banking business in the place in which the account is located, then the due date for payment will be the next day on which banks are open for general banking business in that place.

No additional amount is payable in respect of any delay in payment. Nothing in this clause 9.3 applies to any payment referred to in clause 7.1(b).

9.4 Payments to accounts

Monies payable by CBA to a Holder may be paid by crediting an Australian dollar bank account maintained in Australia with a financial institution and nominated in writing by the Holder by close of business on the relevant Record Date or in any other manner CBA decides.

9.5 Unsuccessful attempts to pay

- (a) If the Holder has not notified the Registry of a bank account for the purposes of payment under clause 9.4 or the transfer of any amount does not complete for any reason (other than an error made by or on behalf of CBA), CBA will be treated as having paid the amount on the date on which it would otherwise have made the payment.
- (b) CBA will send a notice to the registered address of the Holder advising of the unsuccessful payment and the amount of the unsuccessful payment will be held on deposit in a non-interest bearing bank account maintained by CBA or the Registry until the Holder nominates an Australian dollar bank account maintained in Australia for crediting with the payment (or nominates a new bank account as the case may be) or the claim becomes void under clause 12.1.
- (c) No additional amount is payable in respect of any delay in payment.
- (d) For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this clause 9.5 obliges CBA to make a payment it has not otherwise determined to make under clause 2.

9.6 Withholdings and Deductions

- (a) All payments or issuances of Ordinary Shares in respect of PERLS XVI must be made without any withholding or deduction in respect of taxes, unless the withholding or deduction is required by law or permitted by this clause 9.6. CBA (or, if applicable, the Nominee) shall give effect to any such withholding or deduction within the time allowed without incurring penalty under the applicable law and shall, if required by any Holder, deliver to that Holder the relevant receipt issued by the revenue authority without delay after it is received by CBA. If after giving effect to such withholding or deduction the balance of the payment or issuance of the balance of the Ordinary Shares is made to the relevant Holder, CBA's obligation to the Holder shall be deemed to have been satisfied in full and CBA shall not be required to pay any additional amount, or issue any further Ordinary Shares.
- (b) CBA, in its absolute discretion, may withhold or deduct from payments or issuances of Ordinary Shares to or for the account of a Holder (including, if applicable, any other person who beneficially derives Distributions or any entitlement to be issued Ordinary Shares under PERLS XVI) where it is required to do so under or in connection with FATCA, or where it has reasonable grounds to suspect that the Holder or a beneficial owner of PERLS XVI may be subject to FATCA, and may deal with such payment or issuance of Ordinary Shares and the Holder's PERLS XVI in accordance with FATCA. If any withholding or deduction arises under or in connection with FATCA, CBA will not be required to pay any further amounts or issue any further Ordinary Shares on account of such withholding or deduction or otherwise reimburse or compensate, or make any payment or additional issuance of Ordinary Shares to, a Holder or a beneficial owner of PERLS XVI for or in respect of any such withholding or deduction.

- (c) Each Holder (including, if applicable, any other person who beneficially derives Distributions under PERLS XVI) will, within 10 Business Days of request by CBA, supply to CBA such forms, documentation and other information relating to its status under FATCA as CBA reasonably requests for the purposes of the CBA Group's compliance with FATCA.

10 Tax File Number withholdings

- (a) CBA will withhold an amount from payments of Distributions on PERLS XVI at the highest marginal tax rate plus the highest Medicare levy if a Holder has not supplied an appropriate tax file number, Australian business number or exemption details.
- (b) If a Holder supplies exemption details and CBA subsequently determines that the relevant exemption was not available, CBA may recover the amount that should have been deducted from the relevant Holder and may deduct that amount from any subsequent payment due to that Holder in respect of PERLS XVI.

11 Substitution of CBA

11.1 Substitution

CBA may, in connection with a NOHC Event, without the consent of Holders and provided that the Substitution Conditions are satisfied, by giving notice to ASX and the Holders:

- (a) substitute for itself a NOHC as the debtor in respect of PERLS XVI and as the issuer of Ordinary Shares on Exchange (Full Successor); or
- (b) substitute for itself a NOHC as the issuer of Ordinary Shares on Exchange (Partial Successor), and a reference to the Successor shall be a reference to the Full Successor or the Partial Successor, as applicable. The notice shall specify the date on which the substitution is to take effect (Date of Substitution).

11.2 Substitution Conditions

The Substitution Conditions are:

- (a) in the case of the Full Successor:
- (i) the Full Successor or another entity (which is a parent entity) subscribes for Ordinary Shares or other capital instruments acceptable to APRA in such amount as may be necessary, or takes other steps acceptable to APRA, to ensure that the capital position of the CBA Level 1 Group and CBA Level 2 Group will not be adversely affected;
 - (ii) the Full Successor will expressly assume CBA's obligations under these Terms and the Deed Poll by entering into a deed poll for the benefit of Holders or a trust deed appointing a trustee for Holders (in either case, a Successor Deed) under which it agrees (among other things):
 - (A) to comply with the restrictions in clause 2.7 of these Terms (with all necessary modifications); and
 - (B) to deliver fully paid ordinary shares in its capital under all circumstances when CBA would otherwise have been required to deliver Ordinary Shares, subject to the same terms and conditions as set out in these Terms (with all necessary modifications);
- (b) in the case of the Partial Successor:
- (i) the Partial Successor agrees with effect on and from the Date of Substitution, by entering into a Successor Deed, to deliver fully paid ordinary shares in its capital under all circumstances when CBA would otherwise have been required to deliver Ordinary Shares, subject to the same terms and conditions as set out in these Terms (with all necessary modifications); and
 - (ii) the Partial Successor agrees that in all circumstances where the Partial Successor delivers fully paid ordinary shares in its capital under the Successor Deed in clause 11.2(b)(i), the Partial Successor or another entity (which is a parent entity) will subscribe for Ordinary Shares in such amount as may be necessary, or take other steps acceptable to APRA, to ensure that the capital position of the CBA Level 1 Group and CBA Level 2 Group is equivalent to the position if the Successor Deed had not been entered into and CBA was required to issue the Ordinary Shares; and
- (c) in the case of either the Full Successor or the Partial Successor (as applicable):
- (i) the Successor's ordinary shares are or are to be quoted on ASX, and the Successor agrees to use all reasonable endeavours and furnish all such documents, information and undertakings as may be reasonably necessary in order to procure
