Purpose of this form

By signing this form, you give us permission to collect, use and share your information with others as outlined in this form and our Privacy Statement. This form also outlines our privacy practices and provides important information about being a co-borrower. The information you give us must be accurate and complete. If not, you may be breaching relevant legislation and we may not be able to provide you with the products and services that best suit your needs.

Meaning of terms used in this form

Group:	Commonwealth Bank of Australia and its subsidiaries
We or us:	Commonwealth Bank of Australia
You (and I/me in the acknowledgment at the end of this form):	For individual borrowers, the individual/s signing or accepting this form; and for organisational borrowers, the organisation and the person/s signing or accepting this form
Your information:	The information about you that we collect, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Financial information you give us • Information about your interactions with us, such as your transactions, payments and use of our websites • Information from public registers or third parties, such as service providers, brokers, and employers • Other information described in our Privacy Statement or this form

Important information about being a co-borrower

When you choose to borrow money with other people you all become co-borrowers. Before you become a co-borrower, you should understand that each borrower is jointly and severally liable. This means:

- We can require you to pay the full amount of loan repayments and any outstanding debt, for example if the other borrower(s) can't or won't pay.
- Failure to pay may result in debt collection, adverse credit rating and sale of assets
- A co-borrower differs from a guarantor in that we can only require payment from a guarantor after we've taken steps to collect the debt from the borrowers.

Important information about your privacy and how we collect, use and share your information

1. Why we collect your information and what we use it for

We collect, use and share your information for purposes such as:

- Confirm your identity
- Assess your application for a product or service
- Analyse your spending habits to assist our assessment or improve our products

Sometimes we need to collect sensitive information. For example, if you're in financial difficulty and ask for hardship relief due to illness, we may ask your permission to collect information about your health. We may also collect, use and share your information for other reasons where the law allows or requires.

2. Sharing information with credit reporting bodies

When you apply to us for credit, we may need to get credit reports about you. A credit report gives us information about your credit history. Credit reports are provided by credit reporting bodies, who collect and share credit information with credit providers like us.

We do this so we and other credit providers can:

- Assess your credit applications and ability to manage credit
- Manage your loans and collect overdue payments.

The information we can share with credit reporting bodies includes things such as:

- Your identity
- Type and amount of credit you applied for or have – like credit cards, home loans or personal loans
- If you've missed any repayments
- Financial Hardship Information - including information about agreed financial hardship arrangements that you may have with us, both temporary and permanent
- If you've committed fraud or another serious credit infringement

The credit reporting bodies we use are:

- Equifax Pty Ltd (equifax.com.au),

- Experian Australia Credit Services Pty Ltd (experian.com.au/credit-services)
- Ilion Australia Pty Ltd (checkyourcredit.com.au).

See our Privacy Statement for other key information about credit reporting matters, such as:

- How to get a copy of credit information we obtain from credit reporting bodies, correct this information or make a complaint
- Where to find each credit reporting body's policy on credit information handling
- What to do if you think you're a victim of identity fraud
- Your right to tell credit reporting bodies not to use your information for any direct marketing.

3. Sharing information with guarantors and security providers

You give us permission to give guarantors or other security providers information about you, the relevant credit facility, and any changes to that facility or new facilities. This is so they can decide if they want to be, or continue to be, your guarantor or security provider.

4. Who else can we share your information with?

We may share your information with other members of the Group or third parties where the law allows. Among other things, this helps us offer you a high-quality customer experience. Group members may use your information for any of the purposes set out in Section 2b of the Privacy Statement.

The third parties we share your information with can include:

- Any other persons named as applicants in your credit application e.g. your co-borrower(s)
- Service providers – for example, insurers (mortgage insurers may also obtain your credit report from a credit reporting body), data analytics providers, valuers, loyalty program partners and our product distributors
- Businesses who do some of our work for us – including direct marketing, statement production, debt recovery and IT support
